New High School Proposed In Report

A recommendation that the Board of Education erect a 1,400-pupil high school on a new site rather than consider abandoning Central Building and erecting a laboratory facility was submitted Monday night by two officials of the Ohio Department of Education.

But before considering plans for a new high school plant, the board should examine carefully the needs of the entire district, particularly keeping in mind the need to replace four East End elementary schools with one or two new buildings, and the probable necessity for additional elementary classrooms in other areas of the city, the report said.

W. D. Darling, assistant superintendent of public instruction, and T. V. Utterback, chief of the building section and a former administrator in the county school system, reviewed the report they had prepared at the board's request.

'No Frills Or Extras'

The report estimated a 1,400-pupil high school could be built on a new site at a cost of $2,780,208, anticipating "strict discipline in planning and no frills or extras".

It would allow special shops and laboratories for a vocational program, a "modest" auditorium, a gymnasium large enough to handle three sections of physical education during a class period, and sufficient classrooms, laboratories, offices and service areas for the enrollment.

The estimated cost could be reduced by as much as $150,000 by building for 1,200 pupils with the idea that regular classrooms could be added as necessary.

"Our capacity calculations are rather liberal and we have found that a 1,200-pupil building can house an average of 10 to 15 per cent over capacity without appreciable overcrowding."

Costs Adjusted

The estimate is based on a 1956 study, plus 30 per cent for cost increases and the experiences the department has had with building costs in the state assistance program.

They estimated the cost breakdown at $2,544,000 for construction and equipment; $41,000 for site development, sewage, water and contingencies; $153,840 for architect's fees; $40,000 for site purchase, and $1,368 for miscellaneous.

The district's remaining bonding capacity should be reserved for a new East End elementary center, the report said. The area now has 704 pupils in the first six grades.

At least 12 rooms plus base facilities for a 24 or 26-room building could be secured at an estimated cost of $458,307, including $413,967 for construction and equipment, $24,840 for architect's fees, and $20,000 for site and site improvement, the officials said.

Savings Possible

If the elementary building could be located near East Junior High, some savings could be made by providing for joint use of school lunch facilities.

Darling frankly told the board the district would not be considered "for a penny" in state aid if it decides to modernize the present high school plant.

"The present high school has served long and well; it deserves an honorable retirement.

"I don't feel that to abandon the facilities (the three buildings in the high school system) would be a misuse of authority. The real misuse would be to spend another $1 million to make them useable."

"We are not here to tell you what to do. We are offering the advice which you asked," he explained, pointing out that he and Utterback studied the district March 26-28 before preparing the report. However, he emphasized the report was not merely the work of one or two men.

Discussion Delayed

The report was submitted in mid-April, but the board has delayed renewing the discussion of the problem while making administrative changes following the death of Supt. Ralph W. Betts.

In any long-range program, the board must recognize the elementary schools are almost as bad as the high school, and the board should consider both in its overall program, although it might not be able to undertake both at the same time, the report said. It termed the East End elementary buildings "most deplorable".

A new high school should have first priority but "every reasonable economy should be used to preserve as much of the bonding capacity as possible for a later elementary program".

"Your building problem is not one subject to easy answers. We have tried to look at it objectively and to consider what is best for the students and the community," Darling said.

'Entire Picture' Cited

Utterback said the two officials came primarily to see what could be done for the high school, but he also suggested the board look at the entire picture to determine the needs.

He said all buildings were examined, along with the facilities, curriculum, programs and attendance. The 6-3-3 plan probably is best for East Liverpool, he added.

"We were pleasantly surprised at the outstanding junior highs.

West's Hopes Boosted Anew On A-Test Ban

MOSCOW (AP)—Western diplomats displayed increasing optimism today that the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union will agree soon on a treaty outlawing all nuclear weapon tests except those underground.

This is the second time in six months, however, that prospects have appeared bright for a breakthrough in the deadlock.

Predictions of success were therefore restrained. Positions taken by the Western powers and the Soviet Union in the opening negotiating session Monday were cloaked in secrecy. If any stumbling blocks developed, they were not being discussed publicly.

Optimism among Western diplomats stemmed primarily from the warmth with which Premier Khrushchev welcomed the U.S. and British negotiators to the Kremlin and the obvious good mood in which the Westerners left 3½ hours later.

A statement issued Monday night disclosed little more than that Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko would speak for the Soviet Union in today's meeting.

The assignment of Gromyko maintained Soviet participation on a high level. It also indicated the meeting was getting down speedily to the problems involved in working out any test ban agreement.

The communique said "questions related to the discontinuance of nuclear tests" had been discussed. It said some other unspecified matters of mutual interest also had been taken up.

Presumably the latter included such issues as the continuing tension in Laos, Khrushchev's renewed proposal for a non-aggression treaty between the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the European Communist bloc, and the possibility of an agreement among the nuclear powers not to transfer nuclear weapons to other countries.

U.S. Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman, representing President Kennedy, and British Science Minister Lord Hailsham, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's special envoy, have instructions to negotiate only on a nuclear test ban.

But Harriman had let it be known he would bring up Laos. The Kennedy administration is worried about preserving the Asian kingdom's neutrality in the face of continuing pressure from Laos' pro-Communist Pathet Lao faction and neighboring North Viet Nam.

Pelini Named To High School Post; Milton Watson To Go To Westgate

Carl F. Pelini, assistant principal in charge of Westgate Junior High for the last five years, was promoted to high school principal Monday night by the Board of Education.

The appointment of the 33-year-old administrator, who came to East Liverpool in 1954 as a teacher and assistant football coach, was approved unanimously following the recommendation of Supt. Paul H. Blair.

The board also appointed Milton R. Watson, principal of Lincoln and Taft Schools, to take over Pelini's post at Westgate. Mrs. Marie Graham, a teacher and former principal at Klondyke was named to fill the posts vacated by Watson.

Their appointments also were unanimous. Vice President James Moss is attending the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters' convention in Las Vegas, but concurred in the recommendation before departing, Blair said.

Maryland City Sees No Letup In Race Strife

BULLETIN
CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP)—More than 100 white businessmen marched through the business district of this racial trouble spot today as a protest to restrictions imposed by militia control.

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP)—This militia-controlled town saw no prospect for a respite in its racial troubles today despite two peace moves:

1. National Guard leaders headed off a protest march by 500 angry Negroes Monday night by releasing 14 persons, including militant integrationist Gloria Richardson, who had been arrested for trying to picket a drugstore.

2. Mayor Calvin W. Mowbray and the City Council appointed a human relations committee to help tackle racial problems. The committee is composed of seven white persons and four Negroes nominated by the Cambridge Non-violent Action Committee.

Mrs. Richardson called for a new demonstration today.

Mrs. Richardson returned Monday from Annapolis, where Gov. J. Millard Tawes held day-long meetings with Negro and white leaders.

Soon she and Stanley Branche, a field secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, appeared on Race Street, the main thoroughfare, with 12 other Negroes.

Col. J. Maurice Tawes of the Guard asked what was going on.

"Since no one deems it necessary to resolve the situation, the only thing we can do is to demonstrate," said Branche.

Tawes called attention to the Guard's ban on demonstrations' imposed after last week's rioting between Negroes and whites.

The Negroes promptly began picketing Collins' Drugstore, a segregated place. Guardsmen with bayonets swiftly bundled the demonstrators into two weapons carriers and took them to the National Guard Armory at Easton, 16 miles north, where they were held without charge.

Monday night, Negroes rallied at Bethel AME church, demanding release of the 14 and threatening a protest march.

"If we have to die in the streets, at least it can be said we died honorably," said Philip H. Savage, a field secretary of the NAACP.

Talks Recessed Again

Chinese, Soviets Blast Each Other

MOSCOW (AP) — Chinese and Soviet delegates took another recess today in their "peace talks" as Moscow and Peking accused each other of attempting to split the Communist world.

Neither delegation showed up at the house in the Lenin Hills where they have been meeting. Each side apparently was trying to force the other to break off the stalemated talks.

The Chinese maintained silence over whether they would continue to meet with the Russians. The Soviet Foreign Office said, "We have no information," when asked if the Chinese planned to leave for home soon.

Meanwhile, Peking for the first time publicly attacked Soviet economic and military aid to India during last fall's Chinese-Indian border war.

The Soviet press was flooded with attacks on the Chinese. Abandoning the polite phrasing which even a week ago characterized most Soviet comments on China, the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda blasted "the erroneous views and actions of the leaders of the Communist party of China which weaken the unity of the world Socialist camp and the international Communist movement."

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia Monday accused the Chinese of trying to shift the center of international communism from the Kremlin and of setting colored races against white.

Red China is only one step from "a schism of the world Communist center," Izvestia said.

It said Peking was trying to find allies among the non-white nations on the basis of "the opposition of the colored peoples and the white race and the demarcation of peoples according to racial, national and continental lines."

Tax Revenue Hits $152,524 For 6 Months

The city income tax has produced $152,524 in the first six months of 1963, Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson said in a report to Council Monday night.

In a breakdown of receipts from the revenue measure from Jan. 1 through June 30, he said taxes withheld by employers produced $81,675; business and industry paid $24,714, and individuals contributed $46,133.

The individual reports are filed principally by persons whose income is not subject to withholding at the source.

Wilkinson also told Council that a survey should be made "at the earliest possible date" to list all prospective tax-payers.

He made the request for a new survey on several previous occasions, pointing out that the records of the tax office are out-dated. No action was taken on the request. Council voted to receive and file the report.

In related action, Council approved a suggestion from Councilman Floyd Murray that it seek a conference with Midland Council to discuss the question of in-

Panel Hears Final Talks In Rail Dispute

Will Begin Writing Its Report Due For Kennedy Friday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Keeping pace with its emergency timetable, a special presidential panel hears final arguments today from both sides in the historic railroad featherbedding dispute.

Wednesday the six-man group, headed by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, will begin writing its report with a preliminary draft scheduled to be ready by nightfall.

The report, containing no recommendations but merely the facts and issues in the dispute as the special committee has found them, will go to President Kennedy Friday.

The President intends to send the report to Congress Monday along with his recommendations for legislation to solve the crisis. That would give the Senate and House just seven days to act before a July 29 deadline.

Rep. Oliver P. Bolton, R-Ohio, predicted Monday that Kennedy would ask for a 30-day cooling off period for one more attempt to settle the issues through mediation.

In case that failed, Bolton said a newsletter to constituents, the President would also ask authority to enforce compulsory arbitration with "the threat of government seizure in the background."

Kennedy has said a strike would be intolerable and many figures in and out of government have agreed.

However, according to Wirtz, neither the railroads nor the unions have made a strong effort to reach a settlement through collective bargaining.

The battle is over the railroads attempt to institute new work rules that would eventually eliminate 60,000 or more jobs that management considers unneeded and calls featherbedding.

4 Are Indicted On Spy Charges

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal grand jury has indicted four persons on espionage charges and said Russia spent "large sums of money" on the spy operations.

The indictments were returned in Brooklyn Monday against a Russian employe of the United Nations, his wife and a mystery couple from Washington, D.C.

They are accused of conspiring for six years to send to Russia via short-wave radio secret information about U.S. rocket pads, atomic arms shipments, troop movements and naval installations.

The grand jury also accused the defendants of trying to enlist American military and civilian defense personnel as agents.

Indicted were Ivan D. Egorov, 41, a U.N. personnel officer; his wife, Aleksandra, 39, and a Washington couple known as Robert K. and Joy Ann Baltch. All have been held without bail.

The four were arrested July 2 —the Egorovs here and the Baltchs in Washington.

The government said the Baltchs took assumed names and their real identities are not known. At their arraignment, newsmen detected a slight foreign accent in their speech but could not identify it.

Baltch borrowed the identity of a Roman Catholic priest in Amsterdam, N.Y. His companion, also known as Joy Ann Garber, borrowed that name from a Norwalk, Conn., housewife.

Faces Angry City Judge

Already Jailed, Man Gets Another 5-Month Term

Sentenced to four months in the County Jail Monday for operating an auto without the owner's consent, a W. 8th St. man drew an additional five months today from an angry Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on three additional charges filed by police.

Herbert Virgil Mellott, 21, pleaded guilty to charges of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, driving without an operator's permit and malicious destruction of property.

Judge Chertoff was irked most by the malicious destruction charge which alleged Mellott kicked a washbowl off a wall in the cellblock.

In sentencing Mellott to a 30-day term, Judge Chertoff declared:

"I don't know what you're angry about, but you're about as anti-social as anyone can get.

"Yesterday you got one of the finest breaks anyone could get by everyone concerned," Judge Chertoff said. The judge was referring to the fact that Mellott, originally charged with auto theft, was permitted to plead guilty to a lesser charge of operating an auto without the owner's consent.

"But yesterday afternoon you caused another disturbance and ripped out some electric wires and caused other prisoners to lose visiting privileges.

"If you think the people of East Liverpool are going to pay for this damage while you sit back and laugh, you are sadly mistaken."

Judge Chertoff also sentenced Mellott to 90 days on the drunk driving charge and 30 days on the charge of driving without a license. "If you had a license, I

School Board Hikes Budget By $176,797

Total '64 Expense Set At $2,410,726 In Annual Estimate

A 1964 budget providing for $2,410,726 in all funds, including $1,918,383 for general operating expenses, was adopted Monday night by the Board of Education.

The budget is an increase of $176,797 over this year's appropriations of $2,233,929, with the general fund showing an increase of $172,368 — up nearly 10 per cent over the $1,746,015 appropriated this year for operating expenses.

The figures will be turned over to the County Budget Commission at Lisbon, which will determine the amount of money the schools can anticipate. The school board will set its actual appropriations next March.

And the actual appropriations can vary. For example, last year's budget called for $1,764,060 for the general fund, but the board was allowed to appropriate $1,746,015, a decrease of $18,045.

Virtually all of the increase—$160,222 — is in salaries for administrators and certificated and non-certificated personnel, with

NEW CUMBERLAND — Squire John D. Herron has continued hearings until Friday at 10:30 a.m. for three men and a woman arrested by Weirton Police and Hancock County sheriff's deputies in a daylight raid on the Sports Lounge in Weirton July 11.

Hearings had been slated Monday night for Rene J. Philastre, 63, and Randolph Stepanovich, 55, both of Steubenville, and Thomas Olszewski, 44, and Teresa Leeds, 32, both of Weirton. They had posted $500 property bonds.

Atty. George E. Loucas of Weirton represented the defendants in asking the continuance. The defendants are charged with operating a lottery.

7 Mills Proposed

Levy Vote Slated In Beaver Local

Action to submit a 7-mill school operating levy to Beaver Local School District voters in November, designed to ease what school authorities term a serious financial problem, was authorized by the Board of Education Monday night.

The proposed levy would bring in about $105,000 annually, needed to make up for losses of state foundation funds and to align teacher salaries on levels with other districts, the board stated.

A majority affirmative vote would be required to pass the measure in the Nov. 5 balloting, George VanHorne, executive head, said.

VANHORNE cited the decline in state funds for the present and next year under the "charge off" system and said the low salaries of teachers have caused a large number of resignations.

He said 18 members of the high school faculty have departed, and a total of 26 teachers have resigned in the district. The executive head declared the Beaver Local pay schedule is the lowest in Columbiana County.

VanHorne also said cutbacks have been made in the school program because of the drop in state funds. There will be no vocal music instructor or French teacher in the elementary grades.

—:—

THE BOARD in January had authorized submitting a 3-mill levy for salaries, but after the results of the state foundation program and the effect of the recent reappraisal of county property were known, a need for more operating funds was verified, VanHorne stated.

He said no new levy for operating funds has been sought in the district since 1957. All financial projects have been for buildings, he said.

The action on the levy was

Canton Gets Warning By Negro Group

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A Negro group has served notice that demonstrations will be staged in Canton soon to protest alleged discrimination in housing, employment and public accommodations.

The warning was issued Monday night at a rally sponsored by the recently established Canton-Stark Ministerial Alliance, an association of eight Negro ministers.

Several hundred persons attended the rally at which a set of guidelines was adopted to bring about what Alliance leaders called improvements in social and economic relationships between Negro and white communities.

The Rev. Sheridan Lancaster of Canton, president of the Alliance, said at least 100 persons will take leadership training in the techniques of peaceful demonstrations.

A series of protests in coming weeks, he said, will help to "influence and stimulate community concern for the plight of the Canton Negro population."

Tax Revenue Hits $152,524 For 6 Months

The city income tax has produced $152,524 in the first six months of 1963, Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson said in a report to Council Monday night.

In a breakdown of receipts from the revenue measure from Jan. 1 through June 30, he said taxes withheld by employers produced $81,675; business and industry paid $24,714, and individuals contributed $46,133.

The individual reports are filed principally by persons whose income is not subject to withholding at the source.

Wilkinson also told Council that a survey should be made "at the earliest possible date" to list all prospective tax-payers.

He made the request for a new survey on several previous occasions, pointing out that the records of the tax office are out-dated. No action was taken on the request. Council voted to receive and file the report.

In related action, Council approved a suggestion from Councilman Floyd Murray that it seek a conference with Midland Council to discuss the question of in-

Panel Hears Final Talks In Rail Dispute

Will Begin Writing Its Report Due For Kennedy Friday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Keeping pace with its emergency timetable, a special presidential panel hears final arguments today from both sides in the historic railroad featherbedding dispute.

Wednesday the six-man group, headed by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, will begin writing its report with a preliminary draft scheduled to be ready by nightfall.

The report, containing no recommendations but merely the facts and issues in the dispute as the special committee has found them, will go to President Kennedy Friday.

The President intends to send the report to Congress Monday along with his recommendations for legislation to solve the crisis. That would give the Senate and House just seven days to act before a July 29 deadline.

Rep. Oliver P. Bolton, R-Ohio, predicted Monday that Kennedy would ask for a 30-day cooling off period for one more attempt to settle the issues through mediation.

In case that failed, Bolton said a newsletter to constituents, the President would also ask authority to enforce compulsory arbitration with "the threat of government seizure in the background."

Kennedy has said a strike would be intolerable and many figures in and out of government have agreed.

However, according to Wirtz, neither the railroads nor the unions have made a strong effort to reach a settlement through collective bargaining.

The battle is over the railroads attempt to institute new work rules that would eventually eliminate 60,000 or more jobs that management considers unneeded and calls featherbedding.

4 Are Indicted On Spy Charges

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal grand jury has indicted four persons on espionage charges and said Russia spent "large sums of money" on the spy operations.

The indictments were returned in Brooklyn Monday against a Russian employe of the United Nations, his wife and a mystery couple from Washington, D.C.

They are accused of conspiring for six years to send to Russia via short-wave radio secret information about U.S. rocket pads, atomic arms shipments, troop movements and naval installations.

The grand jury also accused the defendants of trying to enlist American military and civilian defense personnel as agents.

Indicted were Ivan D. Egorov, 41, a U.N. personnel officer; his wife, Aleksandra, 39, and a Washington couple known as Robert K. and Joy Ann Baltch. All have been held without bail.

The four were arrested July 2 —the Egorovs here and the Baltchs in Washington.

The government said the Baltchs took assumed names and their real identities are not known. At their arraignment, newsmen detected a slight foreign accent in their speech but could not identify it.

Baltch borrowed the identity of a Roman Catholic priest in Amsterdam, N.Y. His companion, also known as Joy Ann Garber, borrowed that name from a Norwalk, Conn., housewife.

Faces Angry City Judge

Already Jailed, Man Gets Another 5-Month Term

Sentenced to four months in the County Jail Monday for operating an auto without the owner's consent, a W. 8th St. man drew an additional five months today from an angry Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on three additional charges filed by police.

Herbert Virgil Mellott, 21, pleaded guilty to charges of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, driving without an operator's permit and malicious destruction of property.

Judge Chertoff was irked most by the malicious destruction charge which alleged Mellott kicked a washbowl off a wall in the cellblock.

In sentencing Mellott to a 30-day term, Judge Chertoff declared:

"I don't know what you're angry about, but you're about as anti-social as anyone can get.

"Yesterday you got one of the finest breaks anyone could get by everyone concerned," Judge Chertoff said. The judge was referring to the fact that Mellott, originally charged with auto theft, was permitted to plead guilty to a lesser charge of operating an auto without the owner's consent.

"But yesterday afternoon you caused another disturbance and ripped out some electric wires and caused other prisoners to lose visiting privileges.

"If you think the people of East Liverpool are going to pay for this damage while you sit back and laugh, you are sadly mistaken."

Judge Chertoff also sentenced Mellott to 90 days on the drunk driving charge and 30 days on the charge of driving without a license. "If you had a license, I

School Board Hikes Budget By $176,797

Total '64 Expense Set At $2,410,726 In Annual Estimate

A 1964 budget providing for $2,410,726 in all funds, including $1,918,383 for general operating expenses, was adopted Monday night by the Board of Education.

The budget is an increase of $176,797 over this year's appropriations of $2,233,929, with the general fund showing an increase of $172,368 — up nearly 10 per cent over the $1,746,015 appropriated this year for operating expenses.

The figures will be turned over to the County Budget Commission at Lisbon, which will determine the amount of money the schools can anticipate. The school board will set its actual appropriations next March.

And the actual appropriations can vary. For example, last year's budget called for $1,764,060 for the general fund, but the board was allowed to appropriate $1,746,015, a decrease of $18,045.

Virtually all of the increase—$160,222 — is in salaries for administrators and certificated and non-certificated personnel, with

Continuance Granted 4 On Gaming Charges

NEW CUMBERLAND — Squire John D. Herron has continued hearings until Friday at 10:30 a.m. for three men and a woman arrested by Weirton Police and Hancock County sheriff's deputies in a daylight raid on the Sports Lounge in Weirton July 11.

Hearings had been slated Monday night for Rene J. Philastre, 63, and Randolph Stepanovich, 55, both of Steubenville, and Thomas Olszewski, 44, and Teresa Leeds, 32, both of Weirton. They had posted $500 property bonds.

Atty. George E. Loucas of Weirton represented the defendants in asking the continuance. The defendants are charged with operating a lottery.

7 Mills Proposed

Levy Vote Slated In Beaver Local

Action to submit a 7-mill school operating levy to Beaver Local School District voters in November, designed to ease what school authorities term a serious financial problem, was authorized by the Board of Education Monday night.

The proposed levy would bring in about $105,000 annually, needed to make up for losses of state foundation funds and to align teacher salaries on levels with other districts, the board stated.

A majority affirmative vote would be required to pass the measure in the Nov. 5 balloting, George VanHorne, executive head, said.

VANHORNE cited the decline in state funds for the present and next year under the "charge off" system and said the low salaries of teachers have caused a large number of resignations.

He said 18 members of the high school faculty have departed, and a total of 26 teachers have resigned in the district. The executive head declared the Beaver Local pay schedule is the lowest in Columbiana County.

VanHorne also said cutbacks have been made in the school program because of the drop in state funds. There will be no vocal music instructor or French teacher in the elementary grades.

THE BOARD in January had authorized submitting a 3-mill levy for salaries, but after the results of the state foundation program and the effect of the recent reappraisal of county property were known, a need for more operating funds was verified, VanHorne stated.

He said no new levy for operating funds has been sought in the district since 1957. All financial projects have been for buildings, he said.

The action on the levy was

Canton Gets Warning By Negro Group

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A Negro group has served notice that demonstrations will be staged in Canton soon to protest alleged discrimination in housing, employment and public accommodations.

The warning was issued Monday night at a rally sponsored by the recently established Canton-Stark Ministerial Alliance, an association of eight Negro ministers.

Several hundred persons attended the rally at which a set of guidelines was adopted to bring about what Alliance leaders called improvements in social and economic relationships between Negro and white communities.

The Rev. Sheridan Lancaster of Canton, president of the Alliance, said at least 100 persons will take leadership training in the techniques of peaceful demonstrations.

A series of protests in coming weeks, he said, will help to "influence and stimulate community concern for the plight of the Canton Negro population."

Teachers Named For 8 City Posts

The appointment of eight teachers and resignations of two others were approved Monday night by the Board of Education.

The board also decided to exercise an option to extend its contract with the Snyder Bus Co. for pupil transportation for a third year, and awarded contracts for student insurance and milk.

The new teachers include Miss Marie Dempsey, Mrs. Cheryl Johns, Mrs. Patricia Kithas, Joseph L. Butorac and James D. Ferguson as high school instructors, Mrs. Linda Lou Evans and Mrs. Joanne Six, in the junior high, and Mrs. Jo-An Yedgenak in the elementary grades.

Miss Dempsey will teach French, Mrs. Johns will be an English instructor and Mrs. Kithas will be art instructor in the high school, Supt. Paul Blair advised the board.

BUTORAC will be instructor for machine drafting, a new program being launched this year, and Ferguson will be chemistry teacher.

Mrs. Evans will teach reading at Westgate, with Mrs. Six as a science teacher.

The resignations were received from Mrs. Nessie Davis, who was reading teacher at Westgate junior high, and Robert S. McCarthy. McCarthy was appointed in June as high school French teacher, but resigned to accept a higher paying post in Canton schools, Blair said.

In response to a question from C. Walter Ashbaugh, the superintendent said there still are some vacancies on the staff "but the picture isn't as bleak as it once appeared."

—:—

BLAIR said English, art and industrial arts teachers are needed at Westgate and a reading teacher and coach are required at East Junior High. The elementary situation is "very good," but some teachers will be appointed next month on temporary certificates, he said.

Under the terms of the transportation contract, there will be no increase in fares, Blair told the board.

A contract for student insurance was awarded to the Pioneer Mutual Casualty Co. represented locally by Paul Shingler. The firm also held the contract last year.

Blair said the firm offered the best program of the 12 that submitted information.

The premium for the regular school insurance will be $2 for elementary students, $3 for junior and senior high pupils, $2 for teachers and administrators, and $4 for all others.

FOR 24-HOUR coverage, the premiums will be $8 for elementary students and $10 for junior and senior high pupils, teachers and administrators.

The board voted unanimously to let the contract following a discussion on insurance for members of the football team. The firm offered football coverage at $15 per player, but the Athletic Board will meet with Shingler before making a decision.

James Lowe, president, and Harry D. McConville, chairman of the Athletic Board, expressed dissatisfaction with the insurance contract last year, asserting full coverage was not provided.

Golden Star Dairy was awarded the contract to supply milk on its low bid of 6 cents per half pint of homogenized milk. Vernon Dell Dairy, the only other bidder, asked 6¼ cents.

—:—

THE BOARD also heard a discussion from Frank C. Dawson, who served as spokesman, and Tom Chema, Key Club president, for a new concession stand at Patterson Field.

Dawson said the Key Club is willing to pay the cost of the new stand, which would be located at the north end of the field on the present running track, under tentative plans.

Under the proposal, an elevated area on the north side would be leveled and the present track extended to 440 yards, the standard size for a regulation track. The present track does not conform to regulations.

The stand would be operated by the Football Mothers and Band Mothers, but there also would be sufficient room for the Key Club to operate its popcorn concession, Dawson said.

—:—

THE BOARD asked Dawson to secure tentative costs, which he indicated would be expensive, and then report back.

The board granted Carnegie Public Library use of Westgate auditorium on Saturday, Sept. 21, from 10 a. m. to noon to screen a film for youngsters enrolled in the summer reading program.

The film showing would not interfere with the annual show of the East Liverpool Dahlia and Floral Society, which is scheduled to open the same day, Blair said.

Miss Kathryn Liebschner, clerk-treasurer, and Blair were authorized to attend a clinic for school board clerks Friday at Kent State University.

Attending the meeting were William Wilson, president of the East Liverpool Teachers Association, Mrs. Mary Ruth Bebout and Mrs. Lillie Belle Leonard.

The board officially accepted the resignations of ten more instructors.

They included Norman Allison, Bruce Costanzo, Linda Evans, Cheryl Johns, June McBane, Lois Switzer, Harry West and Orlando Giovanatto at the high school, Franklin Wilson of the Public School and Bruce Roush at West Point.

—:—

HIRED WERE Margaret Alexee of Youngstown, Harold Backer of Hollidaysport, Pa., and Janette Baker of Lisbon as English instructors at the high school.

All building principals were reappointed, and Chester Urbschat was appointed assistant principal at the Public School, replacing Lewis Lee, who has left the district.

The board approved the 1964 budget of $993,802, up from the $930,968 of 1963, and including anticipated revenue from the proposed 7-mill levy.

—:—

THE BUDGET, with 1963 allotments in parenthesis, includes: General Fund, $818,000 ($754,000); Bond Retirement, $89,564 ($91,463); and Cafeteria, $86,000 ($85,000).

The board granted a contract to supply bus insurance to the Nationwide Insurance Co., lowest of three bidders on coverage for the 29 buses.

The Grange Mutual Insurance Co. was awarded a contract for insurance for school trucks and other utility vehicles.

Tuition was authorized for three district children to attend the Retarded Children's School at Elkton.

The battle of Manila Bay was fought in the Spanish-American War.

Study Given To Board

New High School For City Proposed In State Report

Westgate is one of the finest schools in the state," Utterback said, but declared he and Darling were 'frustrated" when they visited some of the elementary buildings.

"The elementary schools range from the sublime to the ridiculous."

Buildings Rated

The East Liverpool buildings range from "excellent" to "very poor," from the new junior highs to the 1894 Central building. The two junior highs are well - planned and well - constructed and are being used to provide good instruction programs. The new LaCroft building is the only elementary building that fully meets modern standards "and it is too small", the report continued.

The three-building high school complex varies from fair to poor. The old Central building is unfit and unsafe for occupancy despite the fact that it provides some fair-sized instructional rooms, the report continued.

The high school is, considering its age, in fair condition, it added. The classrooms "are too small for good teaching stations even for academic subjects and totally inadequate for special areas such as science, home economics, shop and commercial."

It could be remodeled to provide some improvement but even expensive reconstruction would not provide for adequate, modern instructional procedures.

MA Evaluated

Memorial Auditorium is an excellent municipal arena and a fair city auditorium, the report said. Its educational use is limited to two sections of physical education and poor facilities for metal shop and music.

"It is our considered opinion that these high school buildings are not suitable and cannot, at any reasonable cost, be made suitable for a modern senior high program for 1,200 to 1,400 students."

Four factors entered into the opinion, the report continued.

The area is not conducive to study and instruction. The heavy traffic is a disruptive factor. Every class change is hazardous.

The Central building has long outlived its usefulness. There is a safety factor to consider as well as a very heavy maintenance and repair cost.

The high school building is solid but not well arranged for a good comprehensive program. To modernize it would be prohibitive in cost.

Memorial Auditorium has rather limited use for a day high school program.

Most Buildings Antiquated

With the exceptions of LaCroft, Westgate, Glenmoor and Taft, the elementary schools are antiquated and located on grossly inadequate sites.

The four East End buildings—Garfield, Horace Mann, Neville and Klondyke — are uniformly substandard and plans should be made to replace these buildings with one 28-room or two 14-room buildings.

The same statement would apply to Lincoln, McKinley, Pleasant Heights and the old portion of Taft, it said. Westgate elementary and LaCroft are excellent facilities, it added.

Darling and Utterback said in the report careful consideration was given to the construction of a new laboratory building.

The advantages of a laboratory building would be continued use of existing buildings, continuing the tradition of a downtown high school and upgrading a "somewhat depressed area".

Disadvantages Cited

However, the report said the disadvantages would be high land costs, costly three-floor construction, lack of an area for outdoor instruction and recreation, traffic problems within the building, traffic and noise in the area and lack of a parking area.

In addition, "it would mean investing over $1 million in an undesirable area to get a few years' service out of a building that is not and cannot be made a satisfactory classroom building. The surrounding area also would depreciate the appearance and usefulness of a new building."

Darling later told the board: "If you decide to put $1 million into it and do not figure the building for 50 years, you would be wasting the taxpayers' money."

Program Need Seen

The report said the board and superintendent should, with the advice of the faculty and interested citizens, first develop a comprehensive high school program.

Consideration should be given to the addition of some terminal training programs to the present college entrance curriculum. Trades and industry programs, distributive education, cooperative office training and other ideas also should be explored.

After the board is satisfied that a curriculum to fit the student needs has been developed, an architect should be selected to plan a building to provide the space needed. He should be given a priority of needs to avoid overplanning in relation to available funds.

The report said "there appears to be a serious lack at the senior high level of any complete program for the boy not planning to attend college, and only a limited offering in the commercial field for girls."

Site Considerations

Consideration in the selection of a site should be given to population centers, good access roads and estimated cost of site preparation, the report said.

It pointed out that a site of 30 acres plus one acre for each 100 pupils enrolled is recommended by national organizations.

It would indicate 40 to 45 acres would be needed and would include all space necessary for landscaping, physical training, football and parking. The acreage could be reduced if Patterson Field is retained for football.

The size of the site would indicate a location out of the valley. Two possible sites were noted in the east central part of the school district.

The building should be planned to house from 1,200 to 1,400 students with all base facilities adequate for 1,400. Classrooms are easier to add than laboratories, the report cautioned.

Bonding Power Cited

With a present valuation of $51,440,597, East Liverpool has a gross bonding capacity based on the 9 per cent limit of $4,629,653.

With a net bonded indebtedness of $1,400,000, the district has a remaining bond capacity of $3,229,653.

In discussing enrollment, the report said the total growth over the last five years is 221 pupils, but the growth has been erratic and shows unusual drop-out figures in some elementary grades

The annual drop - out rate of 18 per cent from grade 10 to 11 is high, the report said. The annual increase between 9 and 10 is unusual, it said.

Enrollment To Peak

The senior high enrollment probably will peak at 1,300 in September 1964. Lower enrollments in grades 4 and 8 and the drop - out rate in grades 10 to 12 will slightly lower the figure in 1965-67.

The projected enrollment for September, 1967 with the present figures in parentheses is 3,025 (3,019) in the first six grades, 1,520 (1,450) in the junior highs, and 1,243 (1,156) in the high school.

In a brief comment on the district, the report said: "An area redevelopment program that would clear away the old factories, warehouses and homes along the riverfront and make space for new industry would be a real break for this community."

City Man Admits Fraud In Getting Jobless Payment

An East End man pleaded guilty in Municipal Court this morning on a charge of collecting benefits fraudulently form the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation by alleging he had no earnings although he was working at the time.

Howard G. Monroe, 1164 Erie St., entered the plea on an affidavit filed by George N. Blair of Canton, an investigator for the BUC, who told the court Monroe collected a total of $150 on three separate occasions.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff delayed sentencing until Aug. 16 to allow Monroe to make arrangements to pay back the $150 and make at least one payment.

The judge recalled a similar arrangement was worked out for another defendant sometime ago. Blair said the man has been making payments.

Following court, Blair informally told the judge arrangements have been made with Monroe and that he made an initial payment of $50.

Replacement value of the existing school system was set at $11,089,982 in a report from the Pittsburgh Appraisal Co., which surveys the system each year for insurance purposes. Replacement value increased about $40,000 over last year, chiefly due to new equipment.

Since the judge did not specify the terms can be served concurrently, it means Mellott will serve a total of 270 days at the County Jail.

Police said Mellott kicked off the washbowl in the cell block when he was arrested July 6 on the auto theft charge. Police said the damage totaled $78.

Mellott was not charged with damaging the wiring on a stairway leading to the bullpen on the other side of the city jail, police said.

Police also found a water faucet outside the cell block was dripping yesterday but were unable to turn off the tap because a heavy door also had been jammed.

New High School For City Proposed In State Report

Westgate is one of the finest schools in the state," Utterback said, but declared he and Darling were 'frustrated" when they visited some of the elementary buildings.

"The elementary schools range from the sublime to the ridiculous."

Buildings Rated

The East Liverpool buildings range from "excellent" to "very poor," from the new junior highs to the 1894 Central building. The two junior highs are well - planned and well - constructed and are being used to provide good instruction programs. The new LaCroft building is the only elementary building that fully meets modern standards "and it is too small", the report continued.

The three-building high school complex varies from fair to poor. The old Central building is unfit and unsafe for occupancy despite the fact that it provides some fair-sized instructional rooms, the report continued.

The high school is, considering its age, in fair condition, it added. The classrooms "are too small for good teaching stations even for academic subjects and totally inadequate for special areas such as science, home economics, shop and commercial."

It could be remodeled to provide some improvement but even expensive reconstruction would not provide for adequate, modern instructional procedures.

MA Evaluated

Memorial Auditorium is an excellent municipal arena and a fair city auditorium, the report said. Its educational use is limited to two sections of physical education and poor facilities for metal shop and music.

"It is our considered opinion that these high school buildings are not suitable and cannot, at any reasonable cost, be made suitable for a modern senior high program for 1,200 to 1,400 students."

Since the judge did not specify the terms can be served concurrently, it means Mellott will serve a total of 270 days at the County Jail.

Police said Mellott kicked off the washbowl in the cell block when he was arrested July 6 on the auto theft charge. Police said the damage totaled $78.

Mellott was not charged with damaging the wiring on a stairway leading to the bullpen on the other side of the city jail, police said.

Police also found a water faucet outside the cell block was dripping yesterday but were unable to turn off the tap because a heavy door also had been jammed.

Witnesses said the compact car, headed south on Route 7, slowed for the traffic signal at the intersection with Route 154 about 7:55 a. m.

The semi - trailer, loaded with pipe and following the auto, struck the rear of the car, shoving it about 50 feet into the intersection. The fuel did not ignite, witnesses said. The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon was investigating.

No Change On Our Part

The puzzling thing about the sudden spurt of interest in the Moscow conference is the assumption a "deal" is in the making.

Behind this assumption is the further assumption that something is different than it was before; that this accounts for the prospect of a "deal."

If something actually is different, it is different only for the Khrushchev regime in the Soviet Union. There has been no change on our part.

Americans are still taxing themselves to the limit to keep the Soviet Union from claiming a theoretical edge in the cold war or from holding a literal edge in a hot war.

We are still jeopardizing the present and mortgaging the future in the hope of keeping such relentless pressure on Soviet expansion that the expansionists will change their minds.

We are still of no mind to trust any Soviet agreement further than the weakest man among us could throw Nikita Khrushchev with one hand.

We are still smarting from the way Franklin D. Roosevelt's administration, including the same W. Averell Harriman now in Moscow speaking for the Kennedy administration, tumbled over itself to give Stalin's regime everything it wanted, without getting anything in return except a war effort Russian patriots were making for their motherland, not for the Allied cause.

IN THESE touchy times when the outcome of international negotiations looms larger than the outcome of efforts to solve problems close to home, the Kennedy administration needs to be mindful of the popular view.

There is no demand for a "deal" with Russia. There is no confidence in the good faith of the Russian government.

Certainly there is no demand for any gesture to make it appear the Khrushchev regime or any other regime in Russia can play off the United States in its ideological dispute with Communist China.

U.S. taxpayers have not continued to pay wartime tax rates ever since the end of World War II in the hope of making some ultimate settlement with Russian Communists.

They have borne confiscatory taxation with good grace because they believed the Communist conspiracy would crumble under prolonged pressure.

NOTHING has changed.

No "deal" with Russia that lightened Free World pressure against Communism would hold any attraction.

What started out to be Communism's vendetta against the Free World now is a Free World vendetta against Communism.

If the Kremlin is shopping for a "deal," it should be No Sale.

'The General'

History rode the rails when "The General", famed locomotive of Civil War days, visited the district.

It proved a pleasant as well as a thought-provoking event—not only for historians and rail buffs, but for the average man and woman as well.

There was something exciting about viewing firsthand the engine which figured in a thrilling and fascinating episode of the Civil War. And the excitement was even greater for those who had the opportunity to ride on "The General", though the circumstances were far calmer than during the hectic days when the train was the star of one of the greatest locomotive chases of all times.

Even the space age took a back seat for a few hours as history was relived here and in neighboring communities.

The Pennsylvania Railroad can take a bow for its part in providing an interesting chapter to the Civil War centennial now being observed throughout the United States.

Like Ants At A Picnic

The arrest of eight men in connection with riots at a violence-ridden Bronx diner brings into the open the grisliest danger of racial friction. The eight were hooked up with neo-Nazism and are charged with plans to incite a riot.

Clashes draw extremists the way a picnic attracts ants.

This is a classical pattern of trouble — this tendency of violent people to capitalize on trouble. They are the lurking danger in all civil unrest.

They bob up in strikes. They are waiting to exploit tension in the civil rights demonstrations.

Most to be feared are "young toughs," spoiling for a fight. But not to be disregarded are the "old toughs" — unprincipled fomenters of trouble for trouble's sake.

THESE PEOPLE are not susceptible to appeals for moderation.

They are beyond the reach of discipline.

They are mob organizers.

In every situation that threatens to upset law and order they are the people most to be feared.

The question is whether they may defeat by irresponsible acts the causes that give them cover and an excuse to run amuck.

They flocked into Little Rock. They showed up at the University of Mississippi. They were on the job in Birmingham. They have been busy in Cambridge.

They will take advantage of the scheduled march on Washington next month.

THEIR ABILITY to make trouble is not in itself a reason to be opposed to demonstrations.

That line of reasoning would make it impossible for Americans to express themselves in any collective way lest they run into trouble.

But self-defeating violence has plagued Americans throughout the history of attempts to seek solutions to their problems.

Controversy attracts violent natures.

The possibility of trouble does not justify repression of everything that might call attention to controversy.

It does call for full awareness of the problem and the danger. The ants never miss a picnic.

The Breakup

By Truman Twill

Speaking of conditions in Europe, pundit Walter Lippmann says:

"The confusion and the disarray, the aimlessnes and bewilderment, which are more or less prevalent everywhere, are the concomitants of the breakup of an established order."

I will take Lippmann's word for it that this is happening in Europe, if he will take my word for it that the same thing is happening in the United States. You don't have to be a pundit to know that confusion, disarray, aimlessness and bewilderment are prevalent here, too.

Millions of us are trapped between two eras. We long for the one fading out of sight and are baffled by the one coming into being. We are waving hail and farewell at the same time.

The conceptions we grew up with mark us as fuddy-duddies, not because we are that old but because they appear neolithic to people only slightly younger than we are.

We find the rules we assumed men should live by are rejected out of hand as often as not by men who put no credence in them.

A sample of the bind we're in is space age technology.

We've no more idea than a rabbit what space age technologists are talking about when they calculate how to perform their incredible stunts. Yet, they chide us for not drooling over the privilege of mortgaging everything we have to pay for their hobby. They accuse us of trying to block progress.

We talk about being self-reliant and standing on our own two feet, by George, and not counting on help from anybody — and then along comes a genius with an invention that makes us obsolete.

We fight to the last ditch, by golly, to keep government from edging in on us and nibbling our moral fiber because we must carry on in the spirit of the pioneers. But in the same breath we must be enthusiastic about private paternalism for our everlasting benefit — in the spirit of true-blue Americanism.

It's pretty puzzling, this confusion, disarray, aimlessness and bewilderment.

The kind of government we learned about in sad-sack civics courses isn't the kind we learn about when we grapple with it cheek to cheek.

Somebody keeps switching the labels on the bottles. Take mass production, for example, the biggest thing that happened in our generation. The idea was to make everything cheaper by making everything plentiful. It was like sharing the wealth.

But when we mention this now we are looked at with scorn and pity. We don't understand economics, nor brotherhood, nor a lot of things.

We certainly don't understand government. We thought public servants were what the name sounds like — servants who worked for the public. Now are informed it is the other way around. We work for the servants, who take the first cut out of all our earnings, then tell us what to do with the rest.

This is the way it goes, all the way down the list. We are being pried loose from everything we thought was fundamental, yet we aren't being converted to anything else.

As pundit Lippman says, it's the "breakup of an established order."

He was talking about Europe.

The rest of us are talking about the United States — right here.

The Answer To His Prayers?

Rockefeller States His Views

Gov. Nelson D. Rockefeller was asked by Victor Riesel to comment on John F. Kennedy's administration — or any aspect thereof, since the governor is a possible Republican candidate for the presidency. His reply follows.

By NELSON A. ROCKEFELLER
Governor of New York

In this summer of racial crisis, when attention in Washington is focused primarily on the issue of discrimination in public accommodations, it's well to look beyond the immediate battle to the really basic issue of equal job opportunities for all.

New federal civil rights legislation is, of course, long overdue. It's imperative that Congress act promptly on the President's proposals, which I regard as about two years late in terms of his own promises—not to mention the tensions which might have been avoided.

NEW YORK STATE outlawed discrimination in public accommodations 11 years ago, with a high degree of success and scarcely any real difficulty. Twenty-seven other states have acted in this same field.

But beyond this issue, this nation will not have begun to fulfill the promises it has been making to the American Negro for 100 years until he or she truly has the same chance as anybody else to get aboard the economic escalator that has historically lifted one minority group after another and peacefully assimilated it into the mainstream of American life.

Negroes throughout the nation —Spanish-speaking Americans in several areas—not only need and merit a fair share in the American economy but stand ready to make a major contribution to that economy if given an even break.

Here, in my opinion, are the real roots of the racial crisis—and here is the real opportunity to deal with it creatively and affirmatively, beyond the essential but fundamentally negative question of legislating against various manifestations of discrimination.

NEW YORK STATE has been legislating against discrimination since 1945 and in the past five years has completed the most comprehensive body of equal opportunity laws in the nation. Much progress has been accomplished in the state as a result.

In the final analysis, however, the basic "musts" are (1) a full-employment economy and (2) complete equality of opportunity in job-training and apprenticeship programs, in recruitment of workers, in union membership, in employment.

In many labor unions there is no discrimination, while others have come a long way in eliminating it. Where discrimination has existed or still exists, an important cause has been either a shortage of jobs or fear of a shortage of jobs in the next recession.

HUMAN DECENCY, moral pressure and legislation all serve to reduce or eliminate such discrimination, but the real key to this logjam is an economy that is growing fast enough to eliminate these fears because it can absorb in decent jobs all who seek the dignity of work.

I therefore find it somewhat ironic that the developing battle over civil rights legislation in Washington is being cited as a reason—or as an excuse—for still further delay in congressional action on federal tax cuts designed to stimulate the economy and help it reach its true potential.

For the fact is that the tax cut legislation should in the long run prove to be the most important equal opportunity legislation of all—vital as it is that the first steps outlined in the President's civil rights proposals also be taken.

More and better job opportunities for all Americans means a better chance for the depressed minorities to board the economic escalator—to spend more as consumers, to live in better neighborhoods and in turn to get a better education.

NO BUSINESSMAN in his right mind would consciously refuse to have anything to do with 10 to 15 per cent of the potential market for his product—yet this is the net effect of keeping such a large segment of the population in a state of permanent depression.

Neither would an industrial manager refuse to utilize 10 to 15 per cent of his engineering talent —yet this, too, is what discrimination accomplishes in failure to give so many Americans an opportunity to develop to their full technical, intellectual, and cultural potential.

Full equality of opportunity for every American is not only a moral imperative but also makes good practical sense. I think most Americans realize this—and that all Americans will in good time.

Therefore, while the tensions and pressures of the current crisis are deeply disturbing, while their very existence points to prolonged moral negligence in the past and gravely damages the American image in the world, the end result should, and in my opinion will, be a better, a happier, and a more prosperous America—truly free because it has freed itself of its own inward apprehensions and shortcomings.

Equality For All

Limited Use Of Troops Questioned

Is the administration about to acknowledge that it was wrong in sending federal troops to Mississippi? If not, why were the military forces of the United States not sent to preserve order and prevent further bloodshed in the racial crisis in Cambridge, Md., as they were in Oxford, Miss.? The argument made by the administration in ordering troops to Mississippi was that the entry of James Meredith to the University of Mississippi might cause disorder.

David Lawrence

None had previously occurred, but it was the mere threat of it which prompted the sending of a large number of federal troops to the area and later to the university campus and the town of Oxford. Many of these soldiers still are there, presumably to protect against possible disorder.

In the case of Cambridge, Md., demonstrations and racial clashes have been going on for more than a month. The Department of Justice had appealed in vain to the Negro leaders not to stir things up. The state militia had been on duty in the town for a while but was withdrawn when it seemed that mediation of some kind was in prospect.

A Department of Justice official tried to bring the factions together, but without success.

Last Thursday night, new disorder erupted and the town was terrorized for several hours with shooting described by the commader of the state police on the scene as "almost on the scale of warfare."

AT LEAST five persons were wounded by gunfire. Three were members of the Maryland National Guard, which has been called back to the scene, and limited martial law has been imposed.

The federal government had, of course, no legal right to send troops into Mississippi. There was no insurrection, and the governor of the state had not, as the Constitution requires, requested aid.

He had forces ready to quell disturbances but the administration, claiming it has authority in law and in constitutional provisions, has kept troops at the University of Mississippi for many months now.

If the federal government has a lawful right to send troops anywhere in the United States during a racial crisis on the theory that the principles of the 14th Amendment must be enforced, then it is difficult to understand why such troops have not been ordered as a preventive measure not only to Maryland but to New York City, where a reign of terror has prevailed in certain neighborhoods.

The same kind of disturbances, with violence involved, have been reported also from other areas in different parts of the country where there is racial conflict.

Many lawyers have insisted that the preservation of law and order within a state is the function of the governor and the state militia, not only to be told that this is just a legal technicality.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY is quoted as having said, "after all, it's right." The doctrine expounded here is that "the end justifies the means." Unfortunately, even this doctrine is not uniformly applied.

The Negro leaders, for instance, who sponsor the demonstrations are careful to emphasize in their public statements that they are proceeding on a "non-violent" basis. But when feelings are aroused, "non-violence" is superseded by violence.

As the New York Times — supporter of integration — said in an editorial, "non-violence that deliberately provokes violence is a logical contradiction."

In Cambridge, Md., white persons sitting on the porch of their homes have been the targets of gunfire, and two men were wounded by blasts from an automatic shotgun during last Thursday night's disorder.

Three national guardsmen were wounded when the car in which they were returning from drill duty at a nearby armory was ambushed with rifle and shotgun fire. They were in uniform but unarmed.

NEGRO LEADERS are putting on demonstrations in various cities in memory of one of their colleagues, Medgar Evers, who was killed in Mississippi by a sniper's bullet.

There seems to be no public recognition by any group of the plight of those white persons — most of them innocent bystanders — killed or wounded in recent weeks in connection with racial disturbances. Nor have steps been taken to call a halt to the "non-violent" demonstrations that are steadily producing the violence.

As for the further use of federal troops to quell or prevent the outbreak of disorder, official Washingtc.. is mum.

Will the people of the District of Columbia have the protection of federal troops on Aug. 28 when 100,000 Negroes are expected to participate in a "non-violent" demonstration in Washington?

Apparently only Arkansas, Mississippi and Alabama get the benefit of the presence of federal troops.

The "equal right" to protection doesn't seem to extend to citizens elsewhere who may be threatened with "non-violent" demonstrations in which violence can result in injury to innocent persons.

West Still Confused

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The deepening break between the Russians and Red Chinese has left the West as confused about the future as it was when Nikita Khrushchev suddenly repudiated Stalin in 1956.

The American Communist party said in an editorial in the Daily Worker:

"The shattering revelations made by Khrushchev show what a gigantic transformation is taking place in the Soviet Union."

What was shattered was the myth of the Russian leadership's infallibility. Around the world Communist parties suffered convulsions. Some were heretical enough to criticize the Kremlin.

Russia had to crush Hungary's anti-Red revolt. The Soviet hold on the satellites was weakened, if only a little. But its hold on the Red Chinese was weakened enormously for a reason which may have been overlooked then but isn't now.

While Khrushchev attacked the memory of Stalin at the 20th Party Congress on Feb. 24, 1956, 10 days before that he made suggestions which today are presented as the main cause of the Russian-Chinese split.

He said international problems should be solved by negotiation, that war isn't necessary for communism to triumph, and that the West and East should sign a nuclear test ban agreement and even a non agression pact.

The Chinese disagree on all counts. And these are the main points they throw at Khrushcehv now in their accusation that he is undermining world communism.

But today in Moscow, Americans, Britons and Russians are discussing a test ban. The Americans and Britons are waiting to hear what Khrushchev says on a nonaggression pact. And there have been a number of international negotiations.

Once again around the world Communist parties, watching world communism split into two huge camps, are having some convulsions.

It seems plain that the Communist parties in the West will go along with Russia; the Asian parties will stick with Red China.

Out of the competition will come conflict of one kind or another between the two worlds of communism. This will take up much of the energy, attention and resources of the two camps. To this extent the West will benefit.

The split may even drive Russia into closer association and cooperation with the West.

But the blessing is not unmixed. The Russians are accusing the Chinese of promoting anti-white racialism. From this it can be assumed, if true, that the Chinese will appeal to all the non-white peoples to divide the world into big camps: white and non-white.

That's horrible enough, but the West must be prepared for another specter.

For a while the Chinese may stay behind their frontiers, leaving the rest of Asia pretty much alone because they are not militarily strong enough to challenge the West or risk a war.

That won't last. They'll develop nuclear weapons, perhaps within two years. It may take them some time longer to complete good delivery systems.

Therefore, since the Chinese assert war is necessary for Communist victory, the Western world, particularly the United States, must get adjusted to the reality that sooner or later the Red Chinese will move to take over all of Asia.

Speaking of conditions in Europe, pundit Walter Lippmann says:

"The confusion and the disarray, the aimlessnes and bewilderment, which are more or less prevalent everywhere, are the concomitants of the breakup of an established order."

I will take Lippmann's word for it that this is happening in Europe, if he will take my word for it that the same thing is happening in the United States. You don't have to be a pundit to know that confusion, disarray, aimlessness and bewilderment are prevalent here, too.

Millions of us are trapped between two eras. We long for the one fading out of sight and are baffled by the one coming into being. We are waving hail and farewell at the same time.

The conceptions we grew up with mark us as fuddy-duddies, not because we are that old but because they appear neolithic to people only slightly younger than we are.

We find the rules we assumed men should live by are rejected out of hand as often as not by men who put no credence in them.

A sample of the bind we're in is space age technology.

We've no more idea than a rabbit what space age technologists are talking about when they calculate how to perform their incredible stunts. Yet, they chide us for not drooling over the privilege of mortgaging everything we have to pay for their hobby. They accuse us of trying to block progress.

We talk about being self-reliant and standing on our own two feet, by George, and not counting on help from anybody — and then along comes a genius with an invention that makes us obsolete.

We fight to the last ditch, by golly, to keep government from edging in on us and nibbling our moral fiber because we must carry on in the spirit of the pioneers. But in the same breath we must be enthusiastic about private paternalism for our everlasting benefit — in the spirit of true-blue Americanism.

It's pretty puzzling, this confusion, disarray, aimlessness and bewilderment.

The kind of government we learned about in sad-sack civics courses isn't the kind we learn about when we grapple with it cheek to cheek.

Somebody keeps switching the labels on the bottles. Take mass production, for example, the biggest thing that happened in our generation. The idea was to make everything cheaper by making everything plentiful. It was like sharing the wealth.

But when we mention this now we are looked at with scorn and pity. We don't understand economics, nor brotherhood, nor a lot of things.

We certainly don't understand government. We thought public servants were what the name sounds like — servants who worked for the public. Now are informed it is the other way around. We work for the servants, who take the first cut out of all our earnings, then tell us what to do with the rest.

This is the way it goes, all the way down the list. We are being pried loose from everything we thought was fundamental, yet we aren't being converted to anything else.

As pundit Lippman says, it's the "breakup of an established order."

He was talking about Europe.

The rest of us are talking about the United States — right here.

Odd Facts

You cannot really see the sun. This star is about 92 million miles away from us. It takes the sun's rays eight minutes and 38 seconds to reach our planet. In the meantime, the sun has moved and is really two of its own diameters away from the spot on which we seem to see it.

The creation of Sherlock Holmes by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle in 1889 gave the detective-story type of literature its first typical hero, a professional private detective who used observation, scientific knowledge, and inexorable logic to solve mysterious crimes.

Los Angeles has more land than any other city in the U.S., with its 454.8 square miles. It also has more gasoline stations, with 2,961, and more hotels and motels with 1,163. And in the Los Angeles suburb of West Covina, 54.8 per cent of the families own two cars—more than anywhere else.

The Irish potato is not really a potato and it did not come from Ireland. It is a tuber plant and originated in Peru.

The Answer To His Prayers?

Rockefeller States His Views

Gov. Nelson D. Rockefeller was asked by Victor Riesel to comment on John F. Kennedy's administration — or any aspect thereof, since the governor is a possible Republican candidate for the presidency. His reply follows.

By NELSON A. ROCKEFELLER
Governor of New York

In this summer of racial crisis, when attention in Washington is focused primarily on the issue of discrimination in public accommodations, it's well to look beyond the immediate battle to the really basic issue of equal job opportunities for all.

New federal civil rights legislation is, of course, long overdue. It's imperative that Congress act promptly on the President's proposals, which I regard as about two years late in terms of his own promises—not to mention the tensions which might have been avoided.

NEW YORK STATE outlawed discrimination in public accommodations 11 years ago, with a high degree of success and scarcely any real difficulty. Twenty-seven other states have acted in this same field.

But beyond this issue, this nation will not have begun to fulfill the promises it has been making to the American Negro for 100 years until he or she truly has the same chance as anybody else to get aboard the economic escalator that has historically lifted one minority group after another and peacefully assimilated it into the mainstream of American life.

Negroes throughout the nation —Spanish-speaking Americans in several areas—not only need and merit a fair share in the American economy but stand ready to make a major contribution to that economy if given an even break.

Here, in my opinion, are the real roots of the racial crisis—and here is the real opportunity to deal with it creatively and affirmatively, beyond the essential but fundamentally negative question of legislating against various manifestations of discrimination.

NEW YORK STATE has been legislating against discrimination since 1945 and in the past five years has completed the most comprehensive body of equal opportunity laws in the nation. Much progress has been accomplished in the state as a result.

In the final analysis, however, the basic "musts" are (1) a full-employment economy and (2) complete equality of opportunity in job-training and apprenticeship programs, in recruitment of workers, in union membership, in employment.

In many labor unions there is no discrimination, while others have come a long way in eliminating it. Where discrimination has existed or still exists, an important cause has been either a shortage of jobs or fear of a shortage of jobs in the next recession.

HUMAN DECENCY, moral pressure and legislation all serve to reduce or eliminate such discrimination, but the real key to this logjam is an economy that is growing fast enough to eliminate these fears because it can absorb in decent jobs all who seek the dignity of work.

I therefore find it somewhat ironic that the developing battle over civil rights legislation in Washington is being cited as a reason—or as an excuse—for still further delay in congressional action on federal tax cuts designed to stimulate the economy and help it reach its true potential.

For the fact is that the tax cut legislation should in the long run prove to be the most important equal opportunity legislation of all—vital as it is that the first steps outlined in the President's civil rights proposals also be taken.

More and better job opportunities for all Americans means a better chance for the depressed minorities to board the economic escalator—to spend more as consumers, to live in better neighborhoods and in turn to get a better education.

NO BUSINESSMAN in his right mind would consciously refuse to have anything to do with 10 to 15 per cent of the potential market for his product—yet this is the net effect of keeping such a large segment of the population in a state of permanent depression.

Neither would an industrial manager refuse to utilize 10 to 15 per cent of his engineering talent —yet this, too, is what discrimination accomplishes in failure to give so many Americans an opportunity to develop to their full technical, intellectual, and cultural potential.

Full equality of opportunity for every American is not only a moral imperative but also makes good practical sense. I think most Americans realize this—and that all Americans will in good time.

Therefore, while the tensions and pressures of the current crisis are deeply disturbing, while their very existence points to prolonged moral negligence in the past and gravely damages the American image in the world, the end result should, and in my opinion will, be a better, a happier, and a more prosperous America—truly free because it has freed itself of its own inward apprehensions and shortcomings.

Equality For All

Limited Use Of Troops Questioned

Is the administration about to acknowledge that it was wrong in sending federal troops to Mississippi? If not, why were the military forces of the United States not sent to preserve order and prevent further bloodshed in the racial crisis in Cambridge, Md., as they were in Oxford, Miss.? The argument made by the administration in ordering troops to Mississippi was that the entry of James Meredith to the University of Mississippi might cause disorder.

David Lawrence

None had previously occurred, but it was the mere threat of it which prompted the sending of a large number of federal troops to the area and later to the university campus and the town of Oxford. Many of these soldiers still are there, presumably to protect against possible disorder.

In the case of Cambridge, Md., demonstrations and racial clashes have been going on for more than a month. The Department of Justice had appealed in vain to the Negro leaders not to stir things up. The state militia had been on duty in the town for a while but was withdrawn when it seemed that mediation of some kind was in prospect.

A Department of Justice official tried to bring the factions together, but without success.

Last Thursday night, new disorder erupted and the town was terrorized for several hours with shooting described by the commander of the state police on the scene as "almost on the scale of warfare."

AT LEAST five persons were wounded by gunfire. Three were members of the Maryland National Guard, which has been called back to the scene, and limited martial law has been imposed.

The federal government had, of course, no legal right to send troops into Mississippi. There was no insurrection, and the governor of the state had not, as the Constitution requires, requested aid.

He had forces ready to quell disturbances but the administration, claiming it has authority in law and in constitutional provisions, has kept troops at the University of Mississippi for many months now.

If the federal government has a lawful right to send troops anywhere in the United States during a racial crisis on the theory that the principles of the 14th Amendment must be enforced, then it is difficult to understand why such troops have not been ordered as a preventive measure not only to Maryland but to New York City, where a reign of terror has prevailed in certain neighborhoods.

The same kind of disturbances, with violence involved, have been reported also from other areas in different parts of the country where there is racial conflict.

Many lawyers have insisted that the preservation of law and order within a state is the function of the governor and the state militia, not only to be told that this is just a legal technicality.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY is quoted as having said, "after all, it's right." The doctrine expounded here is that "the end justifies the means." Unfortunately, even this doctrine is not uniformly applied.

The Negro leaders, for instance, who sponsor the demonstrations are careful to emphasize in their public statements that they are proceeding on a "non-violent" basis. But when feelings are aroused, "non-violence" is superseded by violence.

As the New York Times — supporter of integration — said in an editorial, "non-violence that deliberately provokes violence is a logical contradiction."

In Cambridge, Md., white persons sitting on the porch of their homes have been the targets of gunfire, and two men were wounded by blasts from an automatic shotgun during last Thursday night's disorder.

Three national guardsmen were wounded when the car in which they were returning from drill duty at a nearby armory was ambushed with rifle and shotgun fire. They were in uniform but unarmed.

NEGRO LEADERS are putting on demonstrations in various cities in memory of one of their colleagues, Medgar Evers, who was killed in Mississippi by a sniper's bullet.

There seems to be no public recognition by any group of the plight of those white persons — most of them innocent bystanders — killed or wounded in recent weeks in connection with racial disturbances. Nor have steps been taken to call a halt to the "non-violent" demonstrations that are steadily producing the violence.

As for the further use of federal troops to quell or prevent the outbreak of disorder, official Washingtc.. is mum.

Will the people of the District of Columbia have the protection of federal troops on Aug. 28 when 100,000 Negroes are expected to participate in a "non-violent" demonstration in Washington?

Apparently only Arkansas, Mississippi and Alabama get the benefit of the presence of federal troops.

The "equal right" to protection doesn't seem to extend to citizens elsewhere who may be threatened with "non-violent" demonstrations in which violence can result in injury to innocent persons.

West Still Confused

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The deepening break between the Russians and Red Chinese has left the West as confused about the future as it was when Nikita Khrushchev suddenly repudiated Stalin in 1956.

The American Communist party said in an editorial in the Daily Worker:

"The shattering revelations made by Khrushchev show what a gigantic transformation is taking place in the Soviet Union."

What was shattered was the myth of the Russian leadership's infallibility. Around the world Communist parties suffered convulsions. Some were heretical enough to criticize the Kremlin.

Russia had to crush Hungary's anti-Red revolt. The Soviet hold on the satellites was weakened, if only a little. But its hold on the Red Chinese was weakened enormously for a reason which may have been overlooked then but isn't now.

While Khrushchev attacked the memory of Stalin at the 20th Party Congress on Feb. 24, 1956, 10 days before that he made suggestions which today are presented as the main cause of the Russian-Chinese split.

He said international problems should be solved by negotiation, that war isn't necessary for communism to triumph, and that the West and East should sign a nuclear test ban agreement and even a non agression pact.

The Chinese disagree on all counts. And these are the main points they throw at Khrushchev now in their accusation that he is undermining world communism.

But today in Moscow, Americans, Britons and Russians are discussing a test ban. The Americans and Britons are waiting to hear what Khrushchev says on a nonaggression pact. And there have been a number of international negotiations.

Once again around the world Communist parties, watching world communism split into two huge camps, are having some convulsions.

It seems plain that the Communist parties in the West will go along with Russia, the Asian parties will stick with Red China.

Out of the competition will come conflict of one kind or another between the two worlds of communism. This will take up much of the energy, attention and resources of the two camps. To this extent the West will benefit.

The split may even drive Russia into closer association and cooperation with the West.

But the blessing is not unmixed.

The Russians are accusing the Chinese of promoting anti-white racialism. From this it can be assumed, if true, that the Chinese will appeal to all the non-white peoples to divide the world into big camps: white and non-white.

That's horrible enough, but the West must be prepared for another specter.

For a while the Chinese may stay behind their frontiers, leaving the rest of Asia pretty much alone because they are not militarily strong enough to challenge the West or risk a war.

That won't last. They'll develop nuclear weapons, perhaps within two years. It may take them some time longer to complete good delivery systems.

Therefore, since the Chinese assert war is necessary for Communist victory, the Western world, particularly the United States, must get adjusted to the reality that sooner or later the Red Chinese will move to take over all of Asia.

Penalty Given Man In Crash

A Wellsville area man was given a suspended $50 fine and a Virginia trucker forfeited a $32.50 bond today in Municipal Court as the aftermath of a collision between a pickup truck loaded with hay and a tractor - trailer rig Saturday night on Route 45, about 1¼ miles north of Wellsville.

Eugene Paul Johnson, 1325 Hillcrest Rd. was ordered to pay cost after pleading guilty to a charge of failing to signal a turn. George M. Ayers of Fredricksburg, Va., forfeited the bond on a charge of failing to stop within the assured clear distance.

Johnson told Judge Samuel M. Chertoff he was "partially guilty" but credited the hay with saving the life of him and his child. Johnson claimed Ayers was driving recklessly and skidded about 100 feet into his truck.

In an unsworn statement to the court, the State Highway Patrol said Johnson had slowed or stopped intending to make a left turn. However, the hay blocked Johnson's visibility to the rear and his arm signal couldn't be seen properly.

The hay extended three feet from the center of the steering post, the patrol said.

Council Buys Lisbon Police Cruiser Radio

LISBON — Council Monday night purchased a new mobile police radio for the department's cruiser at a cost of $472 from Motorola Distributors, with installation expected to cost $30 additional. Delivery has been promised in two months.

Council also authorized Asst. Police Chief John Varner to attend a school at the Ohio Criminal Investigation and Identification Department at London Sept. 9-27. The cost was set at $150.

Mayor Dean Stockman reported village streets will be swept, beginning at midnight Friday. He requested residents to keep their cars off the streets from midnight until the job is completed. It will be the second sweeping of the streets this summer.

Robert Kelm discussed purchasing an all-purpose industrial tractor, with blade and bucket, for the street department. The cost was estimated between $4,000 and $6,000. It was decided that the street committee should make up specifications at a meeting Monday evening.

Council also discussed water problems that arise during heavy rains and came to the conclusion that several of the catchbasins are too small.

Maps will be checked to see if they can get more sewers or make the catchbasins larger. The street committee, Street Commissioner Richard Roberts and Ernest Reisinger, water department superintendent, will have a meeting soon to go over the plans and maps to see if anything can be done to help the situation.

Council reported all village alleys have been oiled. Any householder whose alley was missed should call the mayor's office, it was announced.

James White of East Liverpool, representing the Columbiana County Refuse Disposal, appeared with reference to picking up village garbage and rubbish. He said he would guarantee weekly pickups at $1.50 per family per month, providing refuse was placed near the curbs.

Council authorized him to contact Lisbon residents but said that he was not allowed to solicit business because of a village ordinance against house-to-house solicitation.

Firestone and Farmers Banks again were named as depositories for village funds for a two-year period.

In other business, Council gave authorization to hire extra police during the Morgan's Raid Centennial and Lion's Street Fair July 26-28.

Councilwomen Blanche Neill asked to have the recruiting signs removed from the Square and moved to a spot in front of the Post Office. Several other councilmen objected. No official action was taken.

Councilman Raymond Dixon requested street lights on Moore St. and at the center of the new bridge over Little Beaver Creek off Market St. Both requests were referred to the street lighting committee.

Bills of $18,000 were authorized to be paid. They included payment of elected officials' salaries, several of whom had not been paid for almost a year.

Council's next meeting will be Aug. 12 at 7:30 p. m.

THE ADVANCEMENTS end a series of promotions which started following the death of Supt. Ralph W. Betts on May 12. The board elevated Blair from assistant superintendent to succeed Mr. Betts and then appointed Hargraves to replace Blair.

He cited the possibility of a disciplinary problem arising at one school while the principal was at the other building. McConville also commented a principal in each building would also be able to teach as well as handle administrative duties.

"Some of our best teachers are principals but we are not getting any teaching out of them," he said.

—:—

THE SUPERINTENDENT said if disciplinary problems arise the principals are free to travel back and forth. The principals also are teachers in the sense that they supervise the instruction, he said.

"We would prefer a principal at each building, but just don't have the money," Blair said.

The board several years ago agreed to a policy proposed by Mr. Betts where one principal would handle two schools. Under the plan, the principal is not responsible for any specified teaching duties.

Clerk Lawrence Zollinger was instructed to write to Midland Council, asking that it propose a date for the conference.

When a date is suggested, President Charles N. Edwards will notify the local councilmen to find if a majority can arrange to attend. He pointed out varying working schedules sometimes make it difficult to arrange a special session.

5 Hancock Officials Attend State Session

Five Hancock County officials will return tonight from attending the annual meeting and "school" in Charleston for West Virginia county assessors and commissioners.

The groups met to discuss the assessment equalization program and new legislation affecting county courts and assessors. The meetings end tonight.

Attending are Commissioners William C. Graham of Chester and Robert E. Roach of New Cumberland, Assessor Arnold Anderson, Miss Helen Cuppy, chief deputy assessor, and Mrs. Delores Foreman, clerk in the office of Donald G. Stewart, county clerk.

Mrs. Iris Applegate Named As Democratic Chairwoman

A city woman was named county chairwoman at a meeting of the Columbiana County Democratic Executive and Central Committees Monday night at the party headquarters on N. Market St., Lisbon.

Appointed was Mrs. Iris Applegate, 1119 St. George St., wife of City Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate.

Mrs. Applegate succeeds Mrs. Kay Blackburn, formerly of Columbiana, who has moved to Baltimore, Md.

Mrs. Applegate is president of the East Liverpool Women's Democrat Club and has been active in the party over eight years.

Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county chairman, presided.

In other business, the committee decided to have a man and a woman work in each precinct in the county for the fall election. If a man is the elected precinct committeeman, he will name a woman to cover the precinct in getting out the voters, and if it is a woman, she will name a man as an assistant.

This will mean 165 men and 165 women working, Gosney commented.

The county ticket for the 1964 election also was discussed. Several announced their candidacies. Candidates have been announced for Common Pleas Judge, county prosecutor and sheriff, Gosney said.

A committee was named to meet within the next two weeks to obtain candidates. Appointed were Atty. Paul Tobin, Leo Payne, James Flasco, Mrs. Applegate, Mrs. Helen Quigley and Mrs. Helen Steffen, all of East Liverpool, Ben Barrett of Salem, Lou Sowers of Lisbon and Mrs. Doris Sauerwein of Leetonia.

The committee will report at the next meeting sometime in August. No date has been set. It will be announced by Gosney.

A discussion also was held on finances.

In Council Action

Traffic Changes Receive Sanction

Two traffic changes recommended by the street committee were approved by City Council in an unusually brief and routine session Monday night.

Council ratified a proposal from Councilman Kenneth C. Berg, chairman, calling for a 90-day trial of one-way traffic on Riverview St. from Highland St. to Bank St. Under his proposal, traffic will move only from north to south. Council authorized Safety-Service Director Robert Owen to erect signs to notify motorists of the change.

In another change, Council authorized installation of a stop sign on North St. at its junction with Jennings Ave. The action also was recommended by Berg, who pointed out he had been presented with a petition with 10 signatures terming the intersection "dangerous."

—:—

THE PETITION said the vision of drivers headed upgrade on North St. is blocked so they cannot see cars approaching from their right on Jennings Ave. The petition said some accidents have occured at the intersection, "but fortunately none has been serious."

Council referred to the ordinance committee and Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper a letter from the Board of Public Utilities pointing out that the State Health Department has issued an order requiring chlorination of the effluent from the sewage treatment plant before it is returned to the river.

In another letter from the board, Council was advised chlorine at the rate of 5-15 parts per million would have to be used on the effluent to comply with the state order. This will require another 18,000 to 54,000 pounds of chlorine annually, the letter said, but it gave no estimate of the cost. The letter was received and filed.

—:—

COUNCIL also received a letter from the Health Board citing its recent action in recommending fluoridation of the city water supply to help prevent tooth decay.

Council referred the letter to its planning committee, which already is studying the proposal.

Councilman Floyd Murray, planning committee chairman, told Council he has obtained a mass of information on fluoridation during his investigation—most of it from the State Health Department. He said 600 Ohio cities and villages now use the treatment on their water, including Lisbon and Salem.

Water Dept. Supt. Donald T. Duke has estimated the treatment would cost $5 daily for adding one part per million of the fluoride to the city's water, Murray said.

He turned over the material on fluoridation to Council, asking that each member study it before any action is taken. Murray said there are many opinions on both sides of the issue "and I think it should be studied seriously before we take any steps toward passing legislation."

—:—

COUNCILMAN Robert W. Sample Jr. commended Murray for his work in assembling the material.

Council also filed a letter from Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate pointing out that the "equipment maintenance" funds of the fire department are $400 overdrawn. The police department "motor maintenance" fund has a $200 balance, he said.

Fire Chief Charles Bryan appeared personally before Council to point out the overdrawn status of the maintenance fund.

Two bills against the city were referred to the claims committee.

Ray Radcliffe, 913 Fairview St., asked $186 for damage to the under section of his auto which he said resulted June 30 when it struck a water box on Laura Ave.

—:—

RAMOND THOMPSON of Bloomfield sought $82 for damage to his car July 6 when it hit a backfilled excavation on E. 4th St. which had been washed out in a heavy rain.

Two routine pieces of legislation were enacted unanimously.

Council passed an appropriation measure providing $250 for stationery and incidental expenses and $630 for the water department and $210 for the sewage department, both for office rental. The appropriation will allow the two departments to pay rental on their City Hall offices, complying with an ordinance enacted a few weeks ago.

Council also approved a resolution naming Mrs. Marion P. Thompson of Park Blvd. as a member of the Board of Trustees of the James Godwin Fund for the relief of the Worthy Poor, succeeding the late Mrs. Millicent T. Hall.

Council received a report of an Equalization Board setting an assessment of $213.88 for each property involved in a sanitary sewer project last year that serves N. Surry Rd., S. Surry Rd. and adjacent areas in Fisher Park. The report was filed by William Y. Orr, Donald Smith and Everett Croft, named by Council to set the assessment.

—:—

BERG commented that he is "disappointed" in the public's response to the city's current low cost surfacing program. Only 18 petitions have been filed to date, he said. The requests represent about 2½ miles of streets, he added.

Sample commented that he is in favor of the contractor beginning work as soon as possible. He also said Council "is anxious to see the blacktop seal coating project begin," as funds have been appropriated.

Council received and filed a letter from the State Highway Department explaining that it has given final approval to construction of the first Freeway stage, completed last fall by the firm of Chapin & Chapin of Norwalk.

On a motion by Councilman S. James Welch, chairman of the rules committee, Council agreed its first September meeting will be held Sept. 9 — a week late because of the Labor Day holiday.

—:—

THE SECOND meeting of the month will be held on the regular date, Sept. 16, the motion specified. Because Council will skip its first August meeting the next regular session will be Aug. 19, Welch reminded.

Council approved unanimously a motion by Murray asking the ordinance committee to study the possibility of presenting an ordinance patterned after legislation in effect at Akron that makes it illegal for "any person, firm or corporation" to recruit individuals to work in a business or industrial plant where the regular employes have been idled by a strike or a lock-out.

Murray pointed out legislation of that type was requested several months ago by the East Liverpool Typographical Union, although the local said its intent was to seek a bill covering all employment, not just the printing trades.

—:—

MURRAY said he conferred with Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper on the proposed bill "and he seemed to think it was O.K." The Akron legislation carries maximum penalties of a $1,000 fine or a 30-day jail term for violations, Murray pointed out.

The ordinance committee is comprised of Sample, chairman, Welch and Murray.

Councilman Frank Duffy registered a complaint against operations of the used car lot of M. & A. Motors at Andrews and Pennsylvania Aves., charging that the concern's autos block the area designated for a sidewalk. Duffy said "there was a good cinder sidewalk there" before the concern occupied an adjacent lot, but the company has pr-empted the space.

Employes of the firm wash cars on the sidewalk area, scattering hubcaps and buckets there, he said.

—:—

"THEY HAVE plenty of room on the rear of their lot — it's not a question of being cramped for room," Duffy said. "That concern is defying the law. The people want the use of that sidewalk. They're entitled to it."

Duffy said he has complained several times to Owen and the police department, but no action has been taken.

Duffy also read a lengthy report compiled by WOHI criticizing the city's "Meter maids." It led to a brief and inconclusive argument with Sample and Councilman George E. Willshaw, who defended the meter attendants.

The meeting opened with invocation by President Charles N. Edwards. Councilman Edward Massey, who is on vacation, was excused.

Gas Company Lists $86,000 In New Mains

The Ohio Valley Gas Co. expects to spend $86,000 before next winter in installing about a mile and a half of new mains in East Liverpool, Harold R. Sneddon, district manager, told Council Monday night.

The principal project, estimated to cost $61,550, calls for installation of new lines in the St. Clair Ave. area where the city is scheduled to build a new three - lane concrete highway, Sneddon pointed out.

Much of the St. Clair work probably would not be done immediately if it were not for the street improvement, Sneddon pointed out. Renewing the lines now will mean it will not be necessary to tear up the new pavement anytime in the near future, he explained.

The St. Clair area work will improve service in the district from Springdale Ave. to the city limits, including Maplewood, Armstrong Ln., Curry St. and several others, he said. The gas company expects to lay 100 feet of 16-inch main, 1,923 feet of 10-inch line, 3,479 feet of 8-inch main and 330 feet of 6-inch pipe, he said.

It also will install a regulator area, he said. Asked by Councilman S. James Welch if the project will improve gas pressure in the Smithfield St. area, Sneddon answered that it will.

The other phase of the project involves a total of 2,975 feet of line estimated to cost $25,000, Sneddon said. The company will:

Install 983 feet of 8-inch pipe and 328 feet of 6-inch main on Etruria St. in the Maryland Ave. area, replacing a 4-inch line.

Lay 1,364 feet of 4-inch main on Lisbon St. from a point near the bottom of the grade to a site near Black Oak Alley — in the vicinity of the city street barn.

Lay 60 feet of 4-inch line and 100 feet of 10-inch main in the area of Croft St. and Northside Ave.

Install a new regulating station at Croft St. and Northside Ave.

Lay 300 feet of 10-inch distribution line near the foot of Lisbon St. Hill.

Sneddon said most of the work will be done by the firm of Wirt and Stern of Wooster, pipe line contractors.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Kenneth Conroy, 7, and Thomas Oglesby, 16, drowned in Lake Erie Monday within a span of four hours.

The Conroy boy had gone to Edgewater Park with his 12-year-old brother, Steve, and a 16-year-old babysitter. The victim was reported missing, and an off-duty city patrolman found him floating face down in the water.

The Oglesby youth went wading with three other boys near East 55th Street and Memorial Shoreway. He disappeared under the water. The Coast Guard found the body three hours later.

VIM's Being Injected Into Mail Delivery

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office Department, already brimming with ZIP starts putting some VIM into the nation's mail delivery today.

VIM—vertical improved mail—is being launched in the 20-story Crown Zellerbach Building in San Francisco in a pilot project to speed up mail service in big office buildings.

VIM joins ZIP (zoning improvement program) and ABCD (accelerated business collection delivery) in Postmaster General J. Edward Day's plan to get some new vigor into the postal service. The over-all program goes under the name of NIMS — nationwide improved mail service.

VIM works like this:

A vertical mail conveyor system, something like a dumbwaiter, carries mail up to all floors of a multiple tenant office building, with one postman assigned exclusively to that building in a basement postal station.

Conveyor trays are equipped with locked covers, with each firm having a key to its own tray to remove its incoming mail, insert outgoing mail and relock the cover.

The conveyor can deliver mail to building tenants within minutes at frequent intervals, the Post Office Department said.

Gas Company Lists $86,000 In New Mains

The Ohio Valley Gas Co. expects to spend $86,000 before next winter in installing about a mile and a half of new mains in East Liverpool, Harold R. Sneddon, district manager, told Council Monday night.

The principal project, estimated to cost $61,550, calls for installation of new lines in the St. Clair Ave. area where the city is scheduled to build a new three - lane concrete highway, Sneddon pointed out.

Much of the St. Clair work probably would not be done immediately if it were not for the street improvement, Sneddon pointed out. Renewing the lines now will mean it will not be necessary to tear up the new pavement anytime in the near future, he explained.

The St. Clair area work will improve service in the district from Springdale Ave. to the city limits, including Maplewood, Armstrong Ln., Curry St. and several others, he said. The gas company expects to lay 100 feet of 16-inch main, 1,923 feet of 10-inch line, 3,479 feet of 8-inch main and 330 feet of 6-inch pipe, he said.

It also will install a regulator area, he said. Asked by Councilman S. James Welch if the project will improve gas pressure in the Smithfield St. area, Sneddon answered that it will.

The other phase of the project involves a total of 2,975 feet of line estimated to cost $25,000, Sneddon said. The company will:

Install 983 feet of 8-inch pipe and 328 feet of 6-inch main on Etruria St. in the Maryland Ave. area, replacing a 4-inch line.

Lay 1,364 feet of 4-inch main on Lisbon St. from a point near the bottom of the grade to a site near Black Oak Alley — in the vicinity of the city street barn.

Lay 60 feet of 4-inch line and 100 feet of 10-inch main in the area of Croft St. and Northside Ave.

Install a new regulating station at Croft St. and Northside Ave.

Lay 300 feet of 10-inch distribution line near the foot of Lisbon St. Hill.

Sneddon said most of the work will be done by the firm of Wirt and Stern of Wooster, pipe line contractors.

VIM's Being Injected Into Mail Delivery

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office Department, already brimming with ZIP starts putting some VIM into the nation's mail delivery today.

VIM—vertical improved mail—is being launched in the 20-story Crown Zellerbach Building in San Francisco in a pilot project to speed up mail service in big office buildings.

VIM joins ZIP (zoning improvement program) and ABCD (accelerated business collection delivery) in Postmaster General J. Edward Day's plan to get some new vigor into the postal service. The over-all program goes under the name of NIMS — nationwide improved mail service.

VIM works like this:

A vertical mail conveyor system, something like a dumbwaiter, carries mail up to all floors of a multiple tenant office building, with one postman assigned exclusively to that building in a basement postal station.

Conveyor trays are equipped with locked covers, with each firm having a key to its own tray to remove its incoming mail, insert outgoing mail and relock the cover.

The conveyor can deliver mail to building tenants within minutes at frequent intervals, the Post Office Department said.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My problem may seem trivial to you but it's breaking my heart. Ever since I can remember I have looked forward to the biggest social event of a teen-ager's life—the Junior-Senior Prom.

I used to dream about what I would wear and how I would have my hair fixed. I even planned things to say, and how to say good night to my folks when we left the house.

Well, all my dreams are shattered because nobody has asked me to go. All my friends have been invited to go and I've been hoping that maybe a few of the boys who have been pleasant to me were just bashful, and holding off. But now I am sure I won't be asked at all.

How can I hold back the tears when I hear the girls discussing their gowns and all the last-minute details? I hate for them to pity me but I am sure they are doing that right now. Please give me some help. I am—CRUSHED.

Dear Crushed: If you knew of the number of letters I have received similar to yours you wouldn't feel so "alone." And this is one of the sad things about proms or any special event where some people are bound to be left out. It does hurt.

But it isn't the end of the world, Honey. You will survive the blow and it will fade from memory.

Life can be tough and disappointments and heartaches come to everyone sooner or later. Nobody escapes. So consider this disappointment as one of the trials that must be faced. And remember, it's not what happens to us but how we take it that counts.

In The Tea Leaves

Dear Ann: It's obvious that you don't know anything about brewing tea—or the proper use of tea bags.

When a woman wrote and asked what to do with the sloppy-looking thing, you said a guest should not be faced with the problem—that the hostess should remove the tea bag in the kitchen.

The idea of the tea bag is so that each person can brew tea to his own taste. Some people like it weak, and others like it brisk. What sense is there is having a tea bag if it's going to be removed in the kitchen?

It's a good thing you aren't the food editor or you'd starve to death.—TEA LOVER.

-:-

Dear Lover; Many food editors who are not starving to death wrote to tell me I was off base with my answer. Your letter, however, was the sweetest. Thank you. So, three lashes with a wet tea bag for me. And thank you for writing.

Fair Weather Suitor

Dear Ann: I have been a widow for 10 years. The man next door lost his wife about a year ago.

Our relationship was always a pleasant one. A few months ago this man began to show an interest in me. He began by inviting me to an art exhibit, along with his sister and brother-in-law. We had a delightful evening.

He invited me to other affairs after that, usually with his sister and brother-in-law along, but sometimes alone. I got the definite impression that his fondness for me was increasing and that he would ask me to marry him. I would have said yes.

Suddenly he stopped calling and it was as if he had dropped off the planet. I thought perhaps he might be ill, so I called him. He said, bluntly, "My sister felt I was becoming too interested in you and that people were talking. I thought it best to terminate the relationship."

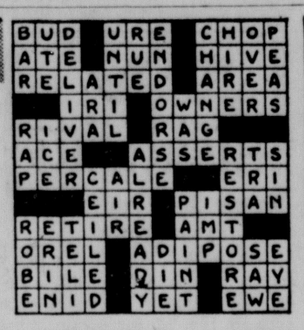

I'm heartsick. What do you suggest:—M.R.T.S

-:-

Dear M.R.T.: A man who could be so easily influenced by his sister is no red-hot bargain. You've lost nothing, believe me.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Body Of Woman, 81, Found Near Home

CLEVELAND (AP)—The disappearance of 81-year-old Mrs. Lucy Menke of Middleburgh Heights the last two days is no longer a mystery. A search party found her body Monday night in a blackberry patch 600 feet from her home.

Her husband was the last one to see her alive—walking toward the garden in back of the house. Police said there was no evidence of foul play.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: For those who buy unfinished picture frames. . .

I am an artist and the best thing I've found—especially if you want the old type "mildew-and-mold" finish — is to buy some chalk at your dime store.

Go over the frame thoroughly. This cheap, white chalk fills up the pores.

Then, take a powder puff and dip it into any can of paste-type shoe polish (if your furniture is black use black, if your furniture is mahogany use red-type, if it's brown use regular brown polish etc.) and smear it over the picture frame. Be sure to get it very thick in the corners.

Take a piece of paper toweling, tissue or whatever you happen to have, place on soiled side of puff and turn the powder puff over. Use this to buff the frame thoroughly.

You will get a sheen on this frame that is amazing! The chalk - which has gotton into the pores of the wood - will leave that old, old antique look.

ARTIST LOUISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I remove crushed spots on my carpets when rearranging my furniture by taking a damp wash cloth — well wrung out — and laying it over the spot. I then lighty touch the cloth with a warm iron thus causing enough steam to raise the pile.

By using a plain vegetable brush to slightly brush the nap, my spots are gone.

ETHEL SANTOS.

-:-

DEAR FOLKS: This is an excellent way to remove marks from carpets. One manufacturer recommends the same in his tile book. However . . . I recommend that you do not use too wet a cloth. If too much moisture goes into the rug you may have a worse spot than you started out with. We do not want steam or water to get to the backing, because when this occurs it sometimes brings a dark spot out on your rug.

HELOISE.

Ideal Shoe Shine Box

DEAR HELOISE: Don't throw away that old bread box . . . It makes the handiest shoe shine box imaginable! Especially for the children and Dad.

I gave mine a fast coat of black paint, inside and out. When it dried, I put some colorful decals on it. It will hold everything that's needed to polish the shoes and the top is plenty roomy to put your foot on for the shine job, so that the polish never touches the floor!

Those old cannisters have many valuable uses, too. I store my furniture polish and waxes and my chemically treated dust cloths in them.

HELPING.

DEAR HELOISE: Plastic squeeze bottles, when empty and washed thoroughly, can be filled with water and used to water house plants. No spill. No drip!

When traveling in the car with pets, fill a plastic bottle each morning before leaving the hotel or motel. The pets can have fresh water any time you are driving without wasting time looking for water on your way. Take along a small bowl, pour out an ounce or two of water at a time and let the pet "lap-away."

KENTON, Ohio (AP) — Sheriff James W. Baldridge says he and other authorities are puzzled and concerned about the Alfred Stover family, who left nearby Dunkirk June 27.

Neighbors concluded the family —Stover, 27; his wife Kay, 22; son Steve, 2, and possibly two dogs— were going on vacation. But a Lima finance company, following directions received in a letter, found their car in a lot and no one has heard from them since, the sheriff said.

Pottery Union Delegates Air Meeting Cost

Biennial conventions would save the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters $300,000 a year, E. L. Wheatley, president, told delegates today at the 69th annual session in Las Vegas.

The delegates, representing the 21,000 - member union, opened a five-day convention Monday.

Wheatley said conventions every two years ought to be enough for the members, who "feel secure in their rights with management for the three years of a contract."

The president also told the delegates:

He wants to merge small, scattered, weak locals.

He will continue to organize workers without regard to race, creed, color or national origin.

The Brotherhood is seeking funds from the government for retraining of potters displaced by reduced U.S. tariffs.

Members should support the King - Anderson Bill (President Kennedy's "Medicare").

Wheatley paid tribute to the memory of the late James M. Duffy, president of the Potters from 1927 to 1953.

Trucker, 28, Injured In Mishap On Route 7

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said a refrigerator truck driven by Harry E. Reineke, 28, of Wheeling Island and a car driven by Eddie L. Hinch, 45, of Logan St., Toronto, were involved in the mishap.

Wellsville Truck Repairs Finished

Wellsville's fire truck was returned to service late Monday night after repairs were made to the transmission on the pumper.

The trouble developed Sunday just before noon as firemen were using the booster line to extinguish a minor auto fire at the station. A mechanic was summoned from the Seagraves Co. at Columbus. He arrived at noon yesterday and tore down the pumper section.

A foreign object had caused the transmission driving the pumper to jam. No new parts were needed to make the repairs, according to Fire Chief Robert Lewis.

No fire calls were sounded when the truck was down. The volunteer fire department's pumper was on duty along, with an old 1927 Seagraves.

Area departments with mutual aid agreements with Wellsville were on standby to protect the city and surrounding area. Chief Lewis today thanked the departments for their co-operation.

Wellsville Truck Repairs Finished

Wellsville's fire truck was returned to service late Monday night after repairs were made to the transmission on the pumper.

The trouble developed Sunday just before noon as firemen were using the booster line to extinguish a minor auto fire at the station. A mechanic was summoned from the Seagraves Co. at Columbus. He arrived at noon yesterday and tore down the pumper section.

A foreign object had caused the transmission driving the pumper to jam. No new parts were needed to make the repairs, according to Fire Chief Robert Lewis.

No fire calls were sounded when the truck was down. The volunteer fire department's pumper was on duty along, with an old 1927 Seagraves.

Area departments with mutual aid agreements with Wellsville were on standby to protect the city and surrounding area. Chief Lewis today thanked the departments for their co-operation.

By ALAN GILL

Hartfelt In Summer

There were great glumphing noises, like the ones you might associate with feeding time at Marineland, as Bill Hartfelt reached the bottom of his lemonade, pulled his plantation hat over his eyes, and fell into nearby beach chair.

Alan Gill

"This heat," he barked, "takes everything out of a fellow. I'm thinking of having my wife pack me in seaweed and ice and ship me to Greenland, the way the Maine lobstermen send off their catch to New York restaurants."

"Why Greenland?" I asked, biting my tongue.

"To get away from summer television!" he howled.

"Oh, I know, I know," I said. "All those re-"

"Don't be an idiot, Gill," he interrupted, pausing for a moment in his ministrations with the sun-tan oil. (He glistened like a half-finished lollipop.) "I'm not talking about repeats. I like repeats. I'm talking about all those party games and amateur hours that fill the dreary summer nights. Ugh!

-:-

"YOU DON'T hear a comedian on summer TV who doesn't sound like a kid mumbling short answers to the questions asked him by the psychologist at at Army induction center. That's not wit, that's sullenness.

"All the professionals have gone off to the mountains, leaving us at the mercy of hopped-up quizmasters and the little old ladies from their studio audiences.

"In summer, the TV cameras go rummaging through your bureau drawers. 'Now, friends,' the emcee says, 'in just 60 seconds, we're going to take you to Leech Lake, La., for a look into the pocketbook and bank statements of Mrs. Minnie Muncy—after this announcement.'

"Soon, we'll be having network specials about the 'real America'—the cake sale, which is a boring custom even in your own town, where the people are at least not outsiders. The public affairs fellows will be taken us to Cub Scout meetings, where the kids are all saluting their Indian leader and promising to be 'square.'

"We'll be looking into people's attics every Thursday night. We'll meet Homer Hunk of Poughkeepsie, who shellacs avocado pits and sells them for paperweights. We'll look through one fellow's coin books and another's collection of rare clock keys.

-:-

"IT WON'T be long, Gill, before we'll be looking at the home movies of perfect strangers—on television. Amateurism in American Culture will have reached its flower."

"But it's here," I said happily. "What's here, fella? Blurt it out!"

"'Your Funny, Funny Films,' each Monday night on ABC,"

"You mean—" Hartfeld turned ashen.

"People come on with the home movies they've taken. And they and George Fenneman, the host, have all these gags lined up and—"

"What do you mean, 'lined up'?"

"Well, the guests have to repeat each straight line twice, because Fenneman asks them to, and then he comes through with the whooperoodle, just like his old boss, Groucho, used to."

"And the films themselves, Gill? What of them?"

"Well, on that opening night, they had some stuff about a kid learning to ride a bicycle and to roller skate. He kept falling down.

"There was a 'war movie' a 12-year-old had made on a California beach. And there were some long-ago scenes an elderly guest had filmed in England—people dancing on the lawn, kissing each other, that sort of thing."

-:-

HARTFELT LOOKED positively stricken. "The bores are taking over," he suddenly bellowed after a moment's silence.

"It's not enough that they try to collar you in your office or your club or at their own house parties. Now they're reaching into your home, through your TV set, undermining the most sacred citadel of Am—"

"Bill," I said quietly, "I hate to say this, being in the line of work I'm in and all, but I rather enjoyed it. My kid was falling down in laughter at the boy on roller skates and — Hartfelt! Where are you going?"

As he disappeared into the sea, a final word fell from his lips: "Angmagssalik."

Angmagssalik, I've since discovered, is a port on the Denmark Strait, in Greenland.

Father Sues Railway For Injured Son, 10

CLEVELAND (AP)—The father of a 10-year-old boy who lost part of his left leg under the wheels of a train is suing the Nickel Plate Road for $225,000.

Frank Dobrowolski of Cleveland filed the suit Monday in Common Pleas Court. His son, Bogdan, was injured Aug. 3, 1960, in an area between East 76th and East 80th streets.

In the petition the father alleged train crews threw out pieces of marking chalk to boys playing in a lot alongside the railroad to see them scramble for it.

It was in such a scramble that Bogdan was injured when he fell on the track while the train was rolling, the father contended.

Ohio Man, 31, Denies Passing Counterfeit Bills

CLEVELAND (AP) — Lenine Strollo, 31, of Campbell has denied he had anything to do with passing large numbers of counterfeit $10 bills in the Youngstown area last winter.

Strollo was the first witness for the defense Monday in U. S. District Court. He is on trial along with Nick Zappia, 48, and Vincent P. Serman, 37, both of Youngstown.

Strollo denied the charges of John Paladinich, 36, also of Youngstown, that Strollo and Serman were suppliers of the bogus bills.

Paladinich, his brother, Joseph, 37, and Robert Armstrong, 19, have pleaded guilty to counterfeiting charges and are awaiting disposition of their cases. The Paladinich brothers have testified for the government.

Father Sues Railway For Injured Son, 10

CLEVELAND (AP)—The father of a 10-year-old boy who lost part of his left leg under the wheels of a train is suing the Nickel Plate Road for $225,000.

Frank Dobrowolski of Cleveland filed the suit Monday in Common Pleas Court. His son, Bogdan, was injured Aug. 3, 1960, in an area between East 76th and East 80th streets.

In the petition the father alleged train crews threw out pieces of marking chalk to boys playing in a lot alongside the railroad to see them scramble for it.

It was in such a scramble that Bogdan was injured when he fell on the track while the train was rolling, the father contended.

Ohio Man, 31, Denies Passing Counterfeit Bills

CLEVELAND (AP) — Lenine Strollo, 31, of Campbell has denied he had anything to do with passing large numbers of counterfeit $10 bills in the Youngstown area last winter.

Strollo was the first witness for the defense Monday in U. S. District Court. He is on trial along with Nick Zappia, 48, and Vincent P. Serman, 37, both of Youngstown.

Strollo denied the charges of John Paladinich, 36, also of Youngstown, that Strollo and Serman were suppliers of the bogus bills.

Paladinich, his brother, Joseph, 37, and Robert Armstrong, 19, have pleaded guilty to counterfeiting charges and are awaiting disposition of their cases. The Paladinich brothers have testified for the government.

Last week government attorneys sought to establish there were six men in a counterfeiting ring which they said had flooded Ohio with more than $60,000 worth of bogus bills.

Troy's Divided City On Leashes For Dogs

TROY, Ohio (AP)—Troy is a city divided.

There are the pro-leashers and the anti-leashers.

The "pros" want a city ordinance requiring all dogs be kept on leashes, chains or otherwise prevented from roaming throughout the year. They have petitioned City Council.

The "antis," led by the wife and four daughters of Councilman Fred McConnell, say it would be "unfair to punish the majority of dogs and owners for the minor crimes of a few." They have counter-petitioned.

Pape Elevated To Head Basketball Job At Beaver Local

Beaver Local High School filled four coaching vacancies when the Board of Education met Monday night, leaving only two positions open for the coming school year.

Two former Chester High School standouts, an ex-East Liverpool athlete and a University of Cincinnati football star were named at last night's meeting.

—:—

JOHN PAPE, a three - sports star at Chester High School who has served as assistant cage coach at Beaver Local for the past two seasons, was elevated to the head coaching job, succeeding Tom McCall who accepted a teaching and coaching position in the Lisbon school system.

In addition to serving as head basketball coach, Pape will be an assistant on the varsity football staff.

The 24-year-old Pape was a regular on Chester football, basketball and baseball teams before graduating in 1956. He was graduated from West Liberty State College in January of 1961 and has served at Beaver Local since that time.

Pape received his master's degree in guidance from Kent State University and will be guidance instructor at Beaver Local. He is single and lives at 540 Carolina Ave., Chester.

—:—

DICK PARSONS, probably the only athlete at Chester ever to earn 12 varsity letters playing four years as a regular on the football, basketball and baseball squads, was named an assistant football coach on the varsity staff and in addition will be in charge of wrestling at Beaver Local Public School.

Parsons, who is single, was one of Chester High's all - time great backs, performing under Coach Dom Amedeo.

Parsons, who is 24, completed high school in 1958 and was graduated from Marshall University in 1963 after attending West Liberty. He will teach physical education or social studies. Parsons played one season at Marshall before being sidelined with an injury.

—:—

LOUIS M. HULL, 26, a 1954 graduate of East Liverpool High School and former Potter wrestler, was named head wrestling coach, a position held by Jack O'Rourke who resigned as head football and mat coach to take a similar position at Plain City, Ohio.

He was in charge of wrestling at Beaver Local Public last year.

Hull is a 1962 graduate of Bowling Green State University where he was a member of the wrestling squad. Married, he resides in East Liverpool.

—:—

DON ROSS, at 22, is the youngest member of the present coaching staff. The Lancaster, Ohio native was an all-state football player in high school and went on to make a name on the gridiron at the University of Cincinnati.

Ross was co-captain of the Bearcats his senior year. Playing three years as a regular on Cincinnati football teams, he also was a member of the wrestling team for two seasons.

He taught and served as an assistant football coach at Portsmouth last year. Ross will also serve as assistant varsity basketball coach.

—:—

GEORGE VAN HORNE, executive head of Beaver Local Schools, also announced that Ed Stevens, hired previously as head football coach, also would serve as athletic director in the high school while Lloyd Stockdale of 1005 Dresden Ave., East Liverpool, would be athletic director at Beaver Local Public.

Vacancies remaining include a head coach in baseball and an assistant basketball coach probably on the freshman level.

Cubs Hustle To 2nd Place In National

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

That's no misprint in the National League standings — that team in second place IS the Chicago Cubs.

And since it's already mid-July, that ranks as one of the big surprises of the baseball year.

Last season, you'll remember, these Cubs finished in ninth place —even behind Houston's brand-new Colts. The season before that it was next-to-last, and the season before that, the same. In fact, you have to go all the way back to 1946 before you'll find the Cubs in a first-division finish.

They took over the runner-up spot Monday—with an assist from San Francisco's collapsing Giants.

Dick Ellsworth and Lindy McDaniel combined for a five-hit shutout and Ellsworth keyed the attack with a two-run single as the Cubs trimmed St. Louis 2-0. Then the Pittsburgh Pirates took care of the Giants, sweeping the defending champions in a twi-night doubleheader, 2-1 and 4-1.

Meanwhile, the Philadelphia Phillies parlayed a two-base error and Bob Oldis' single for an 11th-inning run that gave them a 5-4 decision over front-running Los Angeles, snapping the Dodgers' winning string at seven games and cutting their lead over the Cubs to six.

Also in the NL—a bases-loaded walk to Ken Walters in the 12th inning enabled Cincinnati to edge Milwaukee 4-3; and the New York Mets ended a 15-game losing slump by trouncing Houston 14-5, but the Colts came back in the second half of the doubleheader for an 8-0 romp as Don Nottebart won for the first time since his no-hitter two months ago.

Ellsworth, now 13-6, cracked open the game at St. Louis with a bases-loaded single off loser Ernie Broglio in the seventh inning after singles by Ken Hubbs and Dick Bertell and a walk to Andre Rodgers. Then in the last of the seventh, the Cubs' young southpaw and McDaniel stifled the Cards' big threat.

With the bases filled and none out, Ellsworth struck out Tim McCarver and Stan Musial before McDaniel came in and fanned Julian Javier.

Dodger rookie second baseman Nate Oliver opened the way for the Phils in the 11th inning when he dropped Don Demeter's pop up for a two-base error with one out. Reliever Ed Roebuck then gave an intentional walk to Roy Sievers, who had driven in three earlier runs with a homer and sacrifice fly, before Oldis rapped his clinching single. Jack Baldschun was the winner.

Willie Stargell's two-run single in the last of the ninth sent Pittsburgh to its opening game victory over the Giants and Juan Marichal, who had blanked the Pirates on four hits through the first eight innings. Al McBean, 9-2, won it in relief of Bob Friend.

Joe Gibbon scattered 10 Giant hits in taking the second game, with Joe Pagliaroni's homer, Bill Virdon's triple and Dick Schofield's double the key Pittsburgh blows. San Francisco now has dropped four straight games and six of its last seven.

Penn State will face UCLA, Rice, Army, West Virginia and Holy Cross in home football games this fall.

Pony League All-Stars Picked For Tourney

Fifteen players and two alternates were chosen on the Pony League All-Star squad, a team that will represent East Liverpool in the Pony Tournament which gets underway July 20 when the locals face Beaver at Dopler Field.

The East Liverpool All - Stars met with great success last season when they advanced to the regional tournament after winning a District title.

The team again will be managed by Dean Densmor who took the local Pony nine along the road of success in 1962. Chuck Campbell has been named coach. This marks the sixth year Densmore has been connected with the All-Stars as a coach and manager.

The All-Star outfit includes Phil Talbot, Jack Myler, Greg Gerace and Carl Natalina of Golden Star; Jeff Hall, Ed Golden and John Stoddard of Litten's; Marvin Six and Jay Welch of George Bright's; Mike Goodballet, Mike McVay and Bob Pancake of Burbick's and Frank Tice, Denny Smith and Emeory Brewer of Woodbine.

Alternates named were Tom Moore of Bright's and Jeff Kidder of Burbick's.

With the double elimination with Beaver starting at Dopler Field, the second and third games will be played at Beaver July 21. The winner will play the survivor of the Weirton - Mingo Junction contest at Weirton.

Salineville In 8-0 Loss At Wellsville

Wellsville tacked an 8-0 shutout defeat on Salineville in a Tri-County League contest Monday at Wellsville.

Roger Ours twirled a five-hitter and was backed by a seven-hit attack as Wellsville also took advantage of five Salineville errors.

The shutout was saved in the fifth inning when Salineville threatened but Shanks, Wellsville's left fielder, made a fine catch of a line drive, then with the runner tagging up on third base threw to the plate to nip the runner going home.

A triple by Hamilton was the big blow for Wellsville.

Radatz Saves Another For Beantowners

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

There may still be a pennant race in the American League if Dick Radatz' arm holds out and Harmon Killebrew's bat remains ablaze.

Radatz, Boston's redoubtable relief pitcher, saved another Monday as the Red Sox defeated Los Angeles 2-1 and Killebrew, Minnesota's home run king, socked another as the Twins overpowered Cleveland 13-1.

The "save" was Radatz' fourth in the last seven days and the home run was Killebrew's fourth in the last five games.

The victories enabled the second-place Red Sox and the fourth-place Twins to gain a full game on the league-leading New York Yankees, who dropped an 11-10, 12-inning marathon to Kansas City. Boston inched to within 5½ games and Minnesota 6½.

Chicago's third-place White Sox shut out Baltimore 4-0 to remain a single percentage point behind the Red Sox. Washington thrashed Detroit 11-6.

Frank Malzone was the batting star of the Red Sox' fifth victory in their last seven games. He homered off Don Lee in the sixth inning to snap a 1-1 tie. The All-Star third baseman also scored the first run, singling in the second and coming home on Bob Tillman's triple.

Bill Monbouquette, now 13-6, had a four-hitter until Bob Sadowski doubled with one out in the eighth. Radatz, coming out of the bullpen for the 37th time this season, got pinch hitter Leon Wagner to hit into a double play and retired the Angels in order in the ninth for his 10th save. He also has 10 victories in 11 decisions, all in relief.

The homer-happy Twins hit three more, giving them 11 in four games as they rolled to their fourth triumph in succession and third in a row over Cleveland. The homers, by Earl Battey, Don Mincher and Killebrew each came with a man on base to ease the way for Dick Stigman who coasted to his eighth victory with a four-hitter.

The Athletics, battling uphill all the way, finally defeated the Yankees in the 12th after tying the score with one run in the ninth, and again with three runs in the 11th. The winning run resulted from a hit batter and three walks issued by Bill Stafford, the seventh Yankee pitcher. The final walk, to Jerry Lumpe, forced Bobby Del Greco over the plate.

How did we get 2,750,000 of the most careful drivers to insure with us?

We offered them a good deal!

100,000 drivers might be wrong. Or even 200,000. But not 2,750,000!

Especially not the 2,750,000 drivers we insure. (They're careful people with the safety records to prove it!)

Stands to reason that they, of all people, wouldn't be careless about their car insurance. You can bet, before they bought, they shopped around for the best deal. Checked rates, checked claims service, checked extra benefits.

We're proud they chose us. And we think they're happy with us, too. A study of our records shows that nine out of ten will be back again next year. How about Nationwide for your car?

Pape Elevated To Head Basketball Job At Beaver Local

Beaver Local High School filled four coaching vacancies when the Board of Education met Monday night, leaving only two positions open for the coming school year.

Two former Chester High School standouts, an ex-East Liverpool athlete and a University of Cincinnati football star were named at last night's meeting.

—:—

JOHN PAPE, a three - sports star at Chester High School who has served as assistant cage coach at Beaver Local for the past two seasons, was elevated to the head coaching job, succeeding Tom McCall who accepted a teaching and coaching position in the Lisbon school system.

In addition to serving as head basketball coach, Pape will be an assistant on the varsity football staff.

The 24-year-old Pape was a regular on Chester football, basketball and baseball teams before graduating in 1956. He was graduated from West Liberty State College in January of 1961 and has served at Beaver Local since that time.

Pape received his master's degree in guidance from Kent State University and will be guidance instructor at Beaver Local. He is single and lives at 540 Carolina Ave., Chester.

—:—

DICK PARSONS, probably the only athlete at Chester ever to earn 12 varsity letters playing four years as a regular on the football, basketball and baseball squads, was named an assistant football coach on the varsity staff and in addition will be in charge of wrestling at Beaver Local Public School.

Parsons, who is single, was one of Chester High's all - time great backs, performing under Coach Dom Amedeo.

Parsons, who is 24, completed high school in 1958 and was graduated from Marshall University in 1963 after attending West Liberty. He will teach physical education or social studies. Parsons played one season at Marshall before being sidelined with an injury.

—:—

LOUIS M. HULL, 26, a 1954 graduate of East Liverpool High School and former Potter wrestler, was named head wrestling coach, a position held by Jack O'Rourke who resigned as head football and mat coach to take a similar position at Plain City, Ohio.

He was in charge of wrestling at Beaver Local Public last year.

Hull is a 1962 graduate of Bowling Green State University where he was a member of the wrestling squad. Married, he resides in East Liverpool.

—:—

DON ROSS, at 22, is the youngest member of the present coaching staff. The Lancaster, Ohio native was an all-state football player in high school and went on to make a name on the gridiron at the University of Cincinnati.

Ross was co-captain of the Bearcats his senior year. Playing three years as a regular on Cincinnati football teams, he also was a member of the wrestling team for two seasons.

He taught and served as an assistant football coach at Portsmouth last year. Ross will also serve as assistant varsity basketball coach.

—:—

GEORGE VAN HORNE, executive head of Beaver Local Schools, also announced that Ed Stevens, hired previously as head football coach, also would serve as athletic director in the high school while Lloyd Stockdale of 1005 Dresden Ave., East Liverpool, would be athletic director at Beaver Local Public.

Vacancies remaining include a head coach in baseball and an assistant basketball coach probably on the freshman level.

Cubs Hustle To 2nd Place In National

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

That's no misprint in the National League standings — that team in second place IS the Chicago Cubs.

And since it's already mid-July, that ranks as one of the big surprises of the baseball year.

Last season, you'll remember, these Cubs finished in ninth place —even behind Houston's brand-new Colts. The season before that it was next-to-last, and the season before that, the same. In fact, you have to go all the way back to 1946 before you'll find the Cubs in a first-division finish.

They took over the runner-up spot Monday—with an assist from San Francisco's collapsing Giants.

Dick Ellsworth and Lindy McDaniel combined for a five-hit shutout and Ellsworth keyed the attack with a two-run single as the Cubs trimmed St. Louis 2-0. Then the Pittsburgh Pirates took care of the Giants, sweeping the defending champions in a twi-night doubleheader, 2-1 and 4-1.

Meanwhile, the Philadelphia Phillies parlayed a two-base error and Bob Oldis' single for an 11th-inning run that gave them a 5-4 decision over front-running Los Angeles, snapping the Dodgers' winning string at seven games and cutting their lead over the Cubs to six.

Also in the NL—a bases-loaded walk to Ken Walters in the 12th inning enabled Cincinnati to edge Milwaukee 4-3; and the New York Mets ended a 15-game losing slump by trouncing Houston 14-5, but the Colts came back in the second half of the doubleheader for an 8-0 romp as Don Nottebart won for the first time since his no-hitter two months ago.

Ellsworth, now 13-6, cracked open the game at St. Louis with a bases-loaded single off loser Ernie Broglio in the seventh inning after singles by Ken Hubbs and Dick Bertell and a walk to Andre Rodgers. Then in the last of the seventh, the Cubs' young southpaw and McDaniel stifled the Cards' big threat.

With the bases filled and none out, Ellsworth struck out Tim McCarver and Stan Musial before McDaniel came in and fanned Julian Javier.

Dodger rookie second baseman Nate Oliver opened the way for the Phils in the 11th inning when he dropped Don Demeter's pop up for a two-base error with one out. Reliever Ed Roebuck then gave an intentional walk to Roy Sievers, who had driven in three earlier runs with a homer and sacrifice fly, before Oldis rapped his clinching single. Jack Baldschun was the winner.

Willie Stargell's two-run single in the last of the ninth sent Pittsburgh to its opening game victory over the Giants and Juan Marichal, who had blanked the Pirates on four hits through the first eight innings. Al McBean, 9-2, won it in relief of Bob Friend.

Joe Gibbon scattered 10 Giant hits in taking the second game, with Joe Pagliaroni's homer, Bill Virdon's triple and Dick Schofield's double the key Pittsburgh blows. San Francisco now has dropped four straight games and six of its last seven.

Penn State will face UCLA, Rice, Army, West Virginia and Holy Cross in home football games this fall.

Pony League All-Stars Picked For Tourney

Fifteen players and two alternates were chosen on the Pony League All-Star squad, a team that will represent East Liverpool in the Pony Tournament which gets underway July 20 when the locals face Beaver at Dopler Field.

The East Liverpool All - Stars met with great success last season when they advanced to the regional tournament after winning a District title.

The team again will be managed by Dean Densmor who took the local Pony nine along the road of success in 1962. Chuck Campbell has been named coach. This marks the sixth year Densmore has been connected with the All-Stars as a coach and manager.

The All-Star outfit includes Phil Talbot, Jack Myler, Greg Gerace and Carl Natalina of Golden Star; Jeff Hall, Ed Golden and John Stoddard of Litten's; Marvin Six and Jay Welch of George Bright's; Mike Goodballet, Mike McVay and Bob Pancake of Burbick's and Frank Tice, Denny Smith and Emeory Brewer of Woodbine.

Alternates named were Tom Moore of Bright's and Jeff Kidder of Burbick's.

With the double elimination with Beaver starting at Dopler Field, the second and third games will be played at Beaver July 21. The winner will play the survivor of the Weirton - Mingo Junction contest at Weirton.

Salineville In 8-0 Loss At Wellsville

Wellsville tacked an 8-0 shutout defeat on Salineville in a Tri-County League contest Monday at Wellsville.

Roger Ours twirled a five-hitter and was backed by a seven-hit attack as Wellsville also took advantage of five Salineville errors.

The shutout was saved in the fifth inning when Salineville threatened but Shanks, Wellsville's left fielder, made a fine catch of a line drive, then with the runner tagging up on third base threw to the plate to nip the runner going home.

A triple by Hamilton was the big blow for Wellsville.

Radatz Saves Another For Beantowners

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

There may still be a pennant race in the American League if Dick Radatz' arm holds out and Harmon Killebrew's bat remains ablaze.

Radatz, Boston's redoubtable relief pitcher, saved another Monday as the Red Sox defeated Los Angeles 2-1 and Killebrew, Minnesota's home run king, socked another as the Twins overpowered Cleveland 13-1.

The "save" was Radatz' fourth in the last seven days and the home run was Killebrew's fourth in the last five games.

The victories enabled the second-place Red Sox and the fourth-place Twins to gain a full game on the league-leading New York Yankees, who dropped an 11-10, 12-inning marathon to Kansas City. Boston inched to within 5½ games and Minnesota 6½.

Chicago's third-place White Sox shut out Baltimore 4-0 to remain a single percentage point behind the Red Sox. Washington thrashed Detroit 11-6.

Frank Malzone was the batting star of the Red Sox' fifth victory in their last seven games. He homered off Don Lee in the sixth inning to snap a 1-1 tie. The All-Star third baseman also scored the first run, singling in the second and coming home on Bob Tillman's triple.

Bill Monbouquette, now 13-6, had a four-hitter until Bob Sadowski doubled with one out in the eighth. Radatz, coming out of the bullpen for the 37th time this season, got pinch hitter Leon Wagner to hit into a double play and retired the Angels in order in the ninth for his 10th save. He also has 10 victories in 11 decisions, all in relief.

The homer-happy Twins hit three more, giving them 11 in four games as they rolled to their fourth triumph in succession and third in a row over Cleveland. The homers, by Earl Battey, Don Mincher and Killebrew each came with a man on base to ease the way for Dick Stigman who coasted to his eighth victory with a four-hitter.

The Athletics, battling uphill all the way, finally defeated the Yankees in the 12th after tying the score with one run in the ninth, and again with three runs in the 11th. The winning run resulted from a hit batter and three walks issued by Bill Stafford, the seventh Yankee pitcher. The final walk, to Jerry Lumpe, forced Bobby Del Greco over the plate.

How did we get 2,750,000 of the most careful drivers to insure with us?

We offered them a good deal!

100,000 drivers might be wrong. Or even 200,000. But not 2,750,000!

Especially not the 2,750,000 drivers we insure. (They're careful people with the safety records to prove it!)

Stands to reason that they, of all people, wouldn't be careless about their car insurance. You can bet, before they bought, they shopped around for the best deal. Checked rates, checked claims service, checked extra benefits.

We're proud they chose us. And we think they're happy with us, too. A study of our records shows that nine out of ten will be back again next year. How about Nationwide for your car?

Call the Nationwide agent nearest you. He's listed in the Yellow Pages.

Junior Editors Quiz on POODLES

QUESTION: What made poodles popular and why are they clipped?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: "Poodle" comes from the German "Pudel," for it was in Germany where this breed is said to have originated. These active, intelligent dogs have been used in Europe for many years for retrieving ducks. The naturally heavy coat of the poodle held it back as it splashed through the reeds, so it became the custom to trim away the forepart. Then came the idea of cutting the poodle's coat to allow puffs of hair to stand out. This extreme fashion was especially developed in France. Highly clipped "French poodles" became popular all over the world because of their "chic," amusing appearance.

But the poodle is not only smart in the fashion sense. These dogs are particularly responsive to training, so they are often found performing tricks in circuses. Their even temper makes them fine house pets. In color, poodles are even tones of white or black, also blue, cream, red, liver or apricot. The standard poodle stands over 15 inches high at the shoulder, the Miniature is less than 15 inches, and the Toy Poodle is under 10.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Draw a poodle silhouette as at the top. Our artist says the secret of doing good silhouettes is to draw the object carefully as if you were going to put in all the details. Then make an ink outline and fill it in solidly; your silhouette will come alive.

★ ★ ★

Gayle L. Cottnell of Moses Lake, Wash., wins today's grand prize of a 20-volume World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a post card to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you too may win a set.
